

POST-SCRIPTS

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

"But to know
That which before us lies in daily life,
Is the prime wisdom."

The Commissioners flash a well-known signal on a prominent traffic Czar—"Stop—and go!"

Senator Robinson—Arty, not Joe —unintentionally reminds the Democratic party how the judgment of the country has vindicated the Hon. Jim Reed in the matter of an historic controversy with Woodrow Wilson.
"Every knock's a boost!"

Looks as though Senator Borah, in the quest of local color and inside facts, would have to turn on the heat, hang a bunch of bananas on the hatrack, and look up Nicaragua in the encyclopedia.

The Minnesota Senate upholds a dog's privilege to chase a cat, but does it uphold a cat's inalienable right to have a back fence handy?

"Britons Planning to Land No Troops on Nicaraguan Soil." It takes a smart general staff to conduct a military maneuver like that.

A couple of distinguished naval officers are blazoned out of their war-won decorations, bestowed by a friend and ally. There's nothing like living under a one-man government.

A lump-sum appropriation is the kind that gives the people of Washington a free and untrammelled choice—if they don't like it they can lump it.

Great Britain adroitly makes it clear that she will respect the Monroe Doctrine as long as we do.

The Pifflebund will be chagrined to learn that the House goes in strong for economy, without the prefix, by going over the President's head and authorizing the navy to proceed with those three new cruisers. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

Commander de Pinedo completes his trans-Atlantic flight more like a Suede than an Italian—like Ole Olson, he does it in two yumps, by jimmying.

SOME BICENTENNIAL HELPS.
Suggestions requested by Congress for an appropriate celebration of George Washington's 200th birthday anniversary are already pouring in, and will be published from time to time as given out.

New York.
Repeal the Eighteenth amendment—what this country needs is a new Declaration of Independence.

Texas.
We have turned this over to Tom Blanton, as we know he'll run it anyhow.

Florida.
Remove the National Capital to Miami.

Massachusetts.
Destroy Gilbert Stuart's portrait, which is a poor likeness, and let Frank Stearns sit for another.

Senator Hiram Johnson, well-known defender of "the only open forum left on earth," arises in his indignation and demands that the Senate be gagged, which reminds us of Miss Watson, the "tolerable slim old maid," in Huckleberry Finn—"She was down on smoking, but taking snuff was all right, 'cause she done it herself."

"Ah Heaven!—behold her crashing ribs divide!
She loosens, parts and spreads in ruin o'er the tide."

By a miracle and the good seamanship of a cool-headed skipper
what might have been an appalling loss of life is averted as a Baltimore steamer, rammed in the fog in Chesapeake bay, sinks with the loss of but one. Not content with the havoc he has created at sea this winter, Neptune in savage mood, comes into shallow water.

Chicago girl, proving the theory that hell hath no fury like a woman scorned, kills an unwise gentleman who indulges in an untimely sneer.
An old story with variations.
"I fear! You do not care—
You done the worst you know.
I ate you, grinnin' there—
Ah, Gaud, I love you so."

We advise John L. Lewis and the bituminous barons not to start any coal strike in Shanghai, where they don't need any legislation to deal with the situation in a sharp and conclusive manner.

With a thousand applicants clam-oring for the five places on the radio commission one begins to realize how all-powerful this body of imperial potentates of the air will be. Let it once get into the clutches of the fanatics and we shall have a censorship in this country that will stifle free speech as no despotism has ever dared attempt to throttle it.

CITY HEADS BROADEN INQUIRY ON TRAFFIC; MOLLER SUSPENDED

Eldridge and Donovan Go Before Board With the Assistant Director.

HOUSE COMMITTEE TO PRESS FOR FACTS

Questions of Law Referred to Taliaferro, Who Confers With Gibson.

Suspension without pay of Assistant Director of Traffic I. C. Moller was the only tangible result yesterday of Wednesday night's exposure of irregularities in the purchase of traffic signals from the Crouse-Hinds Co. of Syracuse.
But machinery was set in motion by the board of District commissioners not only for laying that scandal with a heavy hand but also for a thorough house cleaning of the entire District building.

With reference to what was freely characterized as the traffic department mess, the following subjects were slated
by the commissioners and other investigating agencies for earnest consideration:

Should Director of Traffic M. O. Eldridge, who denies Moller's defensive statement that his chief sanctioned his irregular acts in advance of their performance, be held accountable even if his denial is true, on the theory that if he did not know of the two years of contract juggling in his department, he should have known of it and in any event he should have administered his office so that it would have been impossible?

Should Maj. Daniel J. Donovan, District auditor, who denies Moller's charge that he winked at the traffic engineer's manipulation of purchases, be held accountable on the theory that,
as the checking officer of the municipal government, he should have known what was going on and, knowing it, should have brought it to the attention of the commissioners?

Records Are Questioned.
Did officials of the local government make a combined effort to straighten out Moller's tangle on the quiet to prevent a scandal and, if so, were they justified in permitting eccentricities to remain on the public records for that purpose?

Should the elaborate program of installation of traffic signals be halted for review in the light of what it has already led to?

Is the more and more frequently suggested abolition of the traffic department, and the placing of a traffic engineer in the police department in its stead, a desirable byway of abolishing as many traffic ills as possible now that a major operation has been made impossible?

The commissioners will also consider the advisability of reviewing the need for $350,000 worth of traffic signals, added to the $60,000 worth already in place, and whether or not expenditure of that sum from the issuance of drivers' permits, as authorized by Congress at the last session, should be prevented, or at least the sum to be expended, considerably reduced.

In addition to the foregoing questions, involving consideration of the

Dog's Ancient Right To Chase Cat Upheld

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 24 (By A. P.).—
The right of dogs to chase a cat was preserved today by the State senate committee on dairy products and live stock.

The committee was ready to recommend a bill to allow any person to kill a dog found chasing that person's "domestic animals or poultry."
Then one senator feared that this might permit killing of a dog engaged in "the pastime of chasing cats." The committee amended the bill to read:
"Live stock and poultry," and recommended passage.

5 Men Burn to Death In Blazing Oil Tank

Hearne, Tex., Feb. 24 (By A. P.).— Trapped by flames in a $5,000 barrel oil tank, which they were cleaning out, five men were burned to death here late today.

The bodies of four of the men were cremated while members of their families stood about the blazing cauldron shrieking and helpless to effect a rescue. The body of one victim was recovered before the tank became too hot to approach.

3 in Fishing Craft Disappear Off Alaska

Cordova, Alaska, Feb. 24 (By A. P.).— Grave fears were felt here today for the safety of Capt. A. Hamilton, master of a small fishing boat, and his two passengers, Clifford Murr and Edwin J.
Roost, United States navy radio operators. There also was some concern as to the whereabouts of a party which has been searching for the missing men.
The three men left Cordova on Sunday in the fishing smack for the naval radio station on Hinchinbrook island,
a distance of 50 miles.

BRITONS PLANNING TO LAND NO TROOPS ON NICARAGUAN SOIL

Warship Sent to Be Only Place of Refuge if Need Should Arise.

By ALBERT W. FOX.

Continued danger to British lives and properties in Nicaragua has now caused the British government to appeal directly to Washington and to notify the United States that a British man-of-war, the H. M. S. Colombo, is en route to Corinto.

Correspondence between the British government and the government of the United States, including a statement which Secretary of State Kellogg yesterday transmitted to Sir Esmé Howard, the British Ambassador here, was made public at the State Department yesterday afternoon. It shows that the British are insisting upon some effective action which will remove the menace to British lives and property arising from present disturbed conditions and that Mr. Kellogg has renewed his assurances that American armed forces will do their utmost to protect British as well as American interests.

The prospective arrival of the British warship Colombo in Nicaraguan waters is not regarded with misgivings here because the British government states that the commanding officer of this ship has no intention of landing forces on Nicaraguan soil. But it is clearly indicated that Great Britain will dispense with the landing of armed forces only because she relies on the protection which the armed forces of the United States will give to British nationals whose lives and property may be in jeopardy.

Monroe Doctrine Recognized.
In other words, the British are recognizing that the Monroe doctrine gives to the United States the option of assuming responsibility for protection of foreigners as well as Americans in Nicaragua or of permitting foreign governments to assume such responsibility.

Both the Italian and Belgian governments have already appealed to the United States for aid.

House Acts on 121 Measures in 3 Hours

(By the Associated Press.)
By sticking to its knitting the House waded through its private bill calendar at a session last night and cleared it of 121 measures in 3 hours.

The bills, some of which already had passed the Senate, were for settlement of claims against the government and to straighten garbled military records and other minor matters.

Tempers Flare in Senate; Many Measures Doomed

Parliamentary Tangle in Upper House Complicated by Clash Between Reed, of Missouri, and Robinson, of Indiana—Boulder Dam Hopes Fade.

By NORMAN W. BAXTER.

The Senate indulged itself yesterday in bad temper, closure petitions, approval of one conference report, bridge bills and talk, the net result of which was a legislative situation that, but for a few exceptions, virtually makes it certain that the end of business has been reached in the upper branch of Congress.

Senatorial leaders prophesy that outlet of the parliamentary snarl that now exists the conference reports on the appropriation bills, the measure granting retired status to disabled emergency officers and a few uncontested measures will emerge.

Linked with this prediction last night was another that such matters as the Boulder dam bill, reorganization of the prohibition enforcement unit, the alien property bill, Muscle Shoals and the resolution extending the life of the Reed "slush fund" committee, all matters of major importance, would be

1 KILLED, 200 SAVED WHEN SHIPS CRASH IN CHESAPEAKE FOG

Baltimore Woman Lost
as City of Annapolis Sinks in Bay.

OTHERS ARE RESCUED BY ITS SISTER CRAFT

Prow of City of Richmond Is Plunged Into Side of Bay
Liner in Darkness.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 24 (By A. P.).— Death darted a cold hand into a dripping fog blanket on the bosom of the Chesapeake early today, but of the more than 200 lives at which it snatched, only one was taken.

Miss Virginia Starkey, of Baltimore, a passenger in a forward cabin of the Chesapeake Bay Line steamer City of Annapolis, which sank after collision with its sister ship, City of Richmond, was missing when passenger lists were checked here. The ship's records showed 100 persons aboard, 47 passengers and 53 of the crew. Ninety-nine were found safely on the decks of the City of Richmond after the City of Annapolis sank.

The pallid liners, which nightly saluted each other 100 miles down the bay on the route between Baltimore and West Point, Va., loomed from the fog like specters off Smith's Point,
Va. this morning.

The whistle notes which ordinarily wafted courteous greetings swelled to bellowings of disaster. The ships met, not quite head-on at an angle which sent the bow of the City of Annapolis glancing off, and drove the knife-like prow of the City of Richmond 15 feet into her sister's port side, just forward of the forward gang plank.

Girl's Cabin in Path of Prow.

Miss Starkey occupied cabin 79, directly in the path of the City of Richmond's rending prow. Another passenger, Marshall Lee, of Baltimore, awoke to find the City of Richmond's prow in his state room, and the cabin filling with water and steam. He escaped with a wrenched back.

Miss Starkey had gone to Almonds Wharf, Va., Saturday to visit friends, and was returning last night. Her body, it was believed, remained in her cabin, 60 feet below the surface of the bay. Aside from Lee, three others reported themselves injured. They were Miss Mozelle Collier, 30 years old, of Richmond, Va., who fell into the water and suffered from exposure; J. D. Land, of Richmond, who was bruised, and Abraham Polan, of Charleston, W. Va., also bruised.

Land and Polan were passengers on the City of Richmond, and Miss Collier was aboard the City of Annapolis. All except Lee declined medical attention.
Lee was taken to a Baltimore hospital.
He had crept on his hands and knees

Bodies Are Found On Red-Hot Tanker

New York, Feb. 24 (By A. P.).—Bodies have been found in the hull of the burned British oil tanker, Black Sea, which is beached on Red Hook black
the harbor, off Brooklyn.

A wireless message from the tug Resolute, which is standing by the tanker, to police headquarters today, requested that a police launch be sent to the scene.

When the police launch reached the tanker, two bodies, presumably those of seamen, were found on the port side of the steamer. The starboard side of the craft was still red hot, as a result of yesterday's explosion off Bayonne.
N. J., and firemen and policemen were unable to determine whether there were other bodies in the wreckage.

SHIP WHICH SENT ITS SISTER CRAFT TO BOTTOM OF BAY

The City of Richmond, with its bow stove in, as it appeared when tugs brought it into Baltimore, after its collision with the City of Annapolis in Chesapeake bay.

PARIS ASKS PROVISIONAL ACCORD ON WAR DEBTS

Requests Made of U. S. and of Britain, Poincare Tells Deputies.

DUBOIS ATTACKS THE PLAN

Paris, Feb. 24 (By A. P.).—France is asking the United States and Great Britain for provisional accord on the war debts, Premier Poincare told the chamber of deputies today. The accords, he added, would not be submitted to parliament for ratification, the government alone being responsible. If provisional payments were not made, both the United States and Great Britain could demand the immediate payment of far larger sums, the premier insisted.

"It must not be supposed in the United States that any delay in ratifying (the Washington debt agreement) means that we intend to repudiate it," he added.

M. Poincare was speaking in reply to a savage attack, launched by Louis Dubois, former president of the reparations commission, upon his policy of making provisional debt payments. M.
Dubois said the French parliament could not accept such procedure, which constituted virtual acceptance of the agreements before a vote was taken on their ratification.

The premier retorted that parliament's rights would be safeguarded and the provisional arrangements in no wise implied acceptance of the agreements. When he formed his cabinet last July, the premier said, it was admitted that one of the first essentials to stabilization was settlement of the foreign debts.

"We thought, and still think," he added, "that France is strong enough to lift herself out of her difficulties by her own force, but she must have time."

M. Dubois said he was satisfied with the premier's reply, but M. Vincent Auriol, socialist leader, maneuvered to keep the question open by introducing a resolution asking the government to submit the accord with London, the proposal to Washington and all documents to the chamber. This will be voted on at a subsequent session.

French Evacuation Of Sarre Proposed

Geneva, Switzerland, Feb. 24 (By A.
P.).—Another measure calculated further to harmonize Franco-German relations was announced today, a recommendation by the Sarre Valley governing commission that the French force of occupation be evacuated from that territory and be replaced by an international railway defense corps.
This action, it says, would relieve the German population of the humiliation of the presence of a French garrison.

Girl Servant Given A $200,000 Estate

Philadelphia, Feb. 24 (By A. P.).— Miss Rosa Kubach, for 30 years employed as a domestic in the home of Mathias Sedding, ship builder and real estate operator, today found herself the sole heir to the fortune left by the financier who died January 23.
It is believed by friends that the estate
may total $200,000.

In his will the 69-year-old man cut off all of his relatives, including a daughter.

The shipbuilder explained in his will he ignored his relatives because "they have never manifested any interest whatsoever in my welfare."

Pinedo Completes Trans-Ocean Flight

Pernambuco, Brazil, Feb. 24 (By A.
P.).—Commander Francisco de Pinedo, Italian aviator who reached the Brazilian mainland at Port Natal from the Island of Fernando Noronha this morning, arrived here late today.

Casablanca, Morocco, Feb. 24 (By A.
P.).—Necessity of repairing the wireless apparatus on his plane today caused
Maj. Tadeo Larre-Borges, Uruguayan aviator, to postpone continuance of his flight from Italy to Uruguay until tomorrow.

U. S. AVIATORS CROSS ANDES AND PAMPAS

Good-Will Fliers Set Out From Valdivia, Chile, and Land
at Bahic Blanca.

Buenos Aires, Feb. 24 (By A. P.).—
The United States army good will aviators arrived here today at Bahic Blanca, Argentina, spanning the southern part of South America from Valdivia, Chile, and crossing the lower part of the Andes mountains and the Argentine pampas safely.

The flight over the Andes marks the beginning of the third division of the good will flight to South and Central America. The fliers' first destination was Neuquen, Argentina, 320 miles from Valdivia.

The planes taking part in the hop are the New York, Detroit, St. Louis and San Francisco. The machines have seaplane hulls, but they are in reality amphibians, being equipped with landing wheels, which are drawn into niches
when alighting on the water.

From Neuquen the planes flew to Bahic Blanca, Argentina, a distance of 565 miles, and thence to Buenos Aires, the capital, 240 miles farther, before turning north.

Boy, 5 Years Old, Swallows Toy Auto

Winston-Salem, N. C., Feb. 24 (By A.
P.).—Physicians were attempting today to save the life of the 5-year-old son of Mrs. James Devine, who swallowed a toy automobile several days ago.

The inch and a half toy was swallowed while the child was playing with it, his mother said. Physicians said the child probably would recover.

SUPREME COURT DECISION DENIES WIDE KLAN CLAIM

Requires Permission of State to Carry On Activities
There, Is Ruling.

KANSAS NEED NOT REPLY

(By the Associated Press.)
The Ku Klux Klan yesterday lost in the Supreme Court its claim of the right to carry on activities in any State without obtaining permission from the State.

The question reached the court from Kansas in an appeal by the Georgia Klan Corporation, which sought to conduct its activities there without obtaining permission as required by the Kansas law relating to corporations organized in other States.

Intensive questioning of John S.
Dean, counsel for the Klan, by the members of the court during his argument was followed by Chief Justice Taft's announcement that the counsel for the State would not have to be heard, as the court was without jurisdiction in the case. An order giving effect to the court's decision to dismiss the appeal will shortly be announced, probably Monday.

In opening his argument Dean emphasized the importance of the controversy from the viewpoint of the Ku Klux Klan and declared that it wanted to contest the right of any State to en-slave it as a foreign corporation. He asserted that every citizen and corporation of the United States had that right under the Federal Constitution.

Members of the court declined to agree with him and expressed their views to the contrary. These were summarized by Justice McReynolds, who demanded that Dean state the grounds for claiming such a right. He replied that every corporation, including the Klan, was guaranteed by the Federal Constitution rights of free speech, a free press and to conduct propaganda. Chief Justice Taft then interjected that no corporation had the right to go into a State without its permission unless engaged in interstate commerce. Dean, however, contended that the Klan was engaged in such commerce.

Holdup of Theater
Laid to 2 Students

Gary, Ind., Feb. 24 (By A. P.).—Believed that two youthful gunmen arrested here after a raid last night on the Palace theater are sons of prominent Chicagoans, and students at the University of Chicago, was expressed by the police today.

The youths refused to reveal their identity, and university authorities are to be asked today to aid.

The boys, with two others who escaped, entered the theater while several hundred people were watching the show, corralled the ushers and manager quietly without disturbing the audience, and escaped with $900 from the box office safe. Pursued by police after they fled in a car, the boys were captured after a collision with a bridge while their companions fled. The two carried saved-off shotguns.

HOUSE VOTES TO PUT CRUISERS IN NAVY BILL BY 208 TO 172

Longworth Quits Dais to Argue for Funds to Start 3 Ships.

PARTY LINES TOPPLE IN FIGHT FOR BOATS

Reduced Appropriation Forces Necessity of New Conference With Senate.

The wish of President Coolidge that three of the eight cruisers provided for in the 1924 building program be allowed to die of financial inanition failed yesterday to meet with the approval of the House of Representatives.

The lower branch of Congress, which previously had voted to "stand by the President," voted early last night by 208 to 172 to "stand by the national defense." In instructing its conference to recede and concur in the Senate amendment, the proponents of cruiser construction reduced the appropriation from $1,250,000 to $450,000 and forced the necessity of another conference between the two Houses.

The situation in the House yesterday almost was identical with the one that presented itself a few weeks ago when by a narrow margin of two votes the cruisers were voted down. Speaker
Nicholas Longworth, Representative
John Q. Tilson, majority floor leader, and Representative Bertrand H. Snell, majority whip, once more led the opposition against the President.

The Speaker of the House, chained by custom to the dais overlooking his colleagues, deserted his post to take the floor and speak in favor of cruiser construction. This time his plea was heard and answered affirmatively.

Burton Pleads in Vain.

Representative Theodore E. Burton, of Ohio, again took the floor to pit his voice and influence against anything that he considered might be interpreted by the other nations of the world as a "warlike" step on the part of the United States. The House, which he won on the previous occasion, was colder to him yesterday.

Representative Martin B. Madden, of Illinois, was the only ranking Republican other than the members of the naval appropriations subcommittee to champion the President's position.

The roll call vote, which was on the Tilson amendment offered yesterday by Representative Thomas S. Butler, found an equal number of Democrats and Republicans voting to put the three cruisers back in the bill.
Representative Finis J. Garrett, Democratic floor leader, abandoned yesterday the political harpoon which he had cast previously. He urged his followers with earnest conviction to back the national defense of the nation.

As a result 104 Democrats joined with an equal number of Republicans

CHANG TROOPS WIN RACE WITH CANTON ARMY TO SHANGHAI

Trains Bring Vanguard of New Defense Force as Sun's Men Flee.

FOREIGNERS OF CITY
ARE CALLED TO ARMS

Looting by Desperate Mob of Defeated Soldiers Is Now Feared.

Shanghai, Feb. 24 (By A. P.).—Foreign residents were called to arms in Shanghai today to prevent possible invasion of their settlements by defeated and demoralized soldiers of Marshal Sun Chuan-fang, deposed ruler of this province of Kiangsu.

Volunteer companies of Americans, Portuguese and Japanese mounted guard to halt any irresponsible body of Chinese soldiers from pouring into the foreign districts and looting homes and business houses, as was done a week ago at Hangchow by the same troops before they were forced from that city by the victorious invading Cantonese.

Trainloads of Sun's troops arrived from Sungkiang, 28 miles south of Shanghai, where the army of 40,000 men was reported crumbling and falling.

DAUGHERTY-MILLER DEFENSE ENDS WITH DENIALS OF WRONG

No Evidence to Show Guilt on Part of Either Man, Lawyers Assert.

CORBIN HINTS SMITH
BETRAYED EMPLOYER

Former Attorney General's Counsel Blames Hounding for Burned Records.

New York, Feb. 24 (By A. P.).—The defense has said its last word in the Daugherty-Miller trial.

Summations for Harry M. Daugherty, former Attorney General, and Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States of their best services in the allowance by Miller of 49 per cent of shares of the American Metals Co.

Corbin's summation for Daugherty was stinging with pleas for pity. He told the jury Daugherty would never go to jail, because "Harry Daugherty will die on the spot on which he hears of the conviction if you find him guilty." He said thousands of prayers were raising up to heaven from Ohio, where Daugherty was known and loved, that he be cleared of the stigma of the trial.

No Index of Guilt.

"There's not a scintilla of evidence of Daugherty's guilt in all this testimony," Corbin asserted. "His fingerprints can't be found on one of these papers. He never knew of those claims annual report to the President."

He stressed the fact that the assumption of innocence of Daugherty was the jury and related a history of the organization of the Metallgesellschaft and the Metallbank, the German companies alleged to have owned the seized 49 per cent of shares of the American Metals Co.

proved, Sapiro said, that even Buckner was negligent, as was, he said, the case with most government officials.

Sapiro reiterated charges that Kenneth P. Simpson, one of Buckner's assistants, had signaled to Richard Merton, German metal magnate, while the latter was on the stand for the government. He charged that Merton had been "skillfully coached" by Buckner and that much of Merton's testimony was recollection, owing to a reconstruction based upon adroit examination before trial.

Hostility of Witness.

"The United States attorney has called some of his witnesses hostile. Well, they were hostile after he laced into them. Mrs. Willebrandt (Isabel Walker Willebrandt, Assistant Attorney General in charge of prohibition matters in the Department of Justice) became hostile after Buckner laced into her, and he got the worst of the duel.

"Senator Guy D. Goff, of West Virginia, became a hostile witness after Buckner laced into him, and Buckner came off second best in his encounter with Senator Goff."

Corbin's summation for Daugherty was stinging with pleas for pity. He told the jury Daugherty would never go to jail, because "Harry Daugherty will die on the spot on which he hears of the conviction if you find him guilty." He said thousands of prayers were raising up to heaven from Ohio, where Daugherty was known and loved, that he be cleared of the stigma of the trial.

DILL PROMISES FIGHT AGAINST JOHN F. DILLON

Hoover Tells Station Owners
They May Continue to Operate 60 Days.

By ROBERT D. HEIN.

With the number of candidates for the new national radio commission soaring toward the 1,000 mark, one mentioned yesterday from the fourth zone was thought to have more than an even chance of making the grade. It is Joseph B. Kyle, president of the Mid-City Bank, of Gary, Ind., who is said to have the backing, not only of Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, but also of Senator Robinson and Representative Will Wood, of that State. Senator Watson is the chairman of the interstate commerce committee, to which the President's radio nominations will be referred. Mr. Kyle is the Republican chairman of Lake county, and is credited with having saved Mr. Watson from defeat in the last campaign. He is 37 years old and a graduate of Valparaiso university.

Sam Pickard, in charge of the radio division of the Department of Agriculture, whose home is at Manhattan, Kan., is a candidate from that district showing strength, with the backing of Senators Capper and Curtis, of Kansas, and was brought here by Secretary Jardine, who also hails from Manhattan.

Another spirited contest indicated, but of a slightly different character, is a fight in the Senate to be led by Senator Dill if the name of John F. Dillon, radio superior of San Francisco, and prominently mentioned candidate from the fifth zone, is proposed. Dillon is a Republican and this is the home zone of Senator Dill, coauthor of the radio bill which has just become a law. However, Senator Dill's opposition to Dillon is rather that he is in effect a Hoover man, being now in the government service under Mr. Hoover. Senator Dill made a fight for commission rather than Hoover control of radio, and although he is declared to be a candidate of his own, is said to be in no frame of mind to accept Dillon as part of the present Hoover organization.

Hoover Advises Patience.

By way of allaying apprehension of station owners, Mr. Hoover was automatically canceled when the President signed the radio bill. Secretary Hoover last night advised them that they may continue to operate their stations for a period of 60 days without incurring the penalties provided in the act for unlicensed operation.

"Every station owner who desires to operate after the 60-day period must apply to the commission for a new license," he added, "and should do so within the 60 days."

"This new act makes a fundamental change in the whole radio system. Every license for radio transmission now outstanding is automatically terminated. This applies to the whole 18,119 stations—broadcasting, amateur, transatlantic and all others. No new license can be issued and no action can be taken upon applications now pending until the commission is formed."

"The completion of the radio legislation makes it possible to eventually clear up the chaos of interference and howls in radio reception. The new commission which is to determine what shall have licenses to broadcast, at what times and with what power, will no doubt require some months to make arrangements of broadcasting stations which will be necessary. It will require some patience on the part of listeners while the commission works out the problem."

The last seven stations to be licensed under the old act of 1926 were announced yesterday as follows: WBOG, Gordon P. Brown, Rochester, N. Y., 15 watts; KRLD, Freeman Lang, Los Angeles, Calif., 250 watts; KGFN, Harlan and Thinsand, Aneta, N. Dak., 15 watts; KOPF, Mitchell Broadcasting Co., Mitchell, S. Dak., 15 watts; WNBC, Popular Radio Shop, Memphis, Tenn., 25 watts; WBOB, John Brownlee Spriggs, Washington, Pa., 15 watts; and KEX, Western Broadcasting Co., Portland, Ore., 20,000 watts.

BRITONS PLANNING TO LAND NO TROOPS ON NICARAGUA SOIL

United States to protect their nationals in Nicaragua, according to recent statements on behalf of President Coolidge by the White House spokesmen. It is understood that both these governments may be ready to follow the British example and renew their appeals unless order is speedily established by American marines.

The day-by-day developments of the past week are viewed here as indicating that the last vestige of fighting and disorder by the disturbing elements within the country has been brought to an end in the interest of peace and order.

Additional Forces Sent.

On February 16 the announcement was made that 200 additional marines and 6 planes were to be dispatched to Nicaragua. On February 17 came the announcement relative to 1,200 additional marines to be sent from Quantico, Va., and Parris Island. On the 18th President Coolidge announced that the United States government, in the name of the United States, had caused the sending of additional marines to Nicaragua.

The following day, February 19, Sir Esme Howard, the British Ambassador, presented the following communication to Secretary Kellogg:

"His Britannic Majesty's Ambassador presents his compliments to the Secretary of State and has the honor to state that he has been instructed by his Majesty's principal secretary of state for foreign affairs to draw the attention of the United States government to the menace to British lives and property arising from the present disturbance in Nicaragua. In particular, his Majesty's government have been advised by his Majesty's charge d'affaires at Managua that the hostilities between the British and the American forces which have been landed in Nicaragua threaten the safety of British lives and property."

"In view, therefore, of the grave risks to which British residents in Nicaragua are now exposed, his Majesty's Ambassador has been instructed to remind the United States government that his Majesty's government look to them to extend to British subjects, and especially to those in the places above mentioned, the same measure of protection as they afford to United States citizens in the districts now threatened by revolutionary disturbances."

Secretary Kellogg delivered his reply yesterday to the Ambassador as follows:

"The Secretary of State presents his compliments to his Excellency, the British Ambassador, and in reply to the latter's note, No. 140, of February 19, 1927, concerning the protection of British lives and property in Nicaragua, has the honor to inform the British Ambassador that the American armed forces which have been landed in Nicaragua for the protection of American and foreign lives and property will be pleased to extend to British subjects such protection as may be possible and proper under the circumstances."

Another British Note.

Meanwhile, the British Ambassador on Wednesday handed another communication to Mr. Kellogg, which read as follows:

"I have the honor to inform you, on instructions from his Majesty's principal secretary of state for foreign affairs, that his Majesty's government has reluctantly decided to send a man-of-war to the west coast of Nicaragua, and the H. M. S. Colombo is being dispatched to Corinto. She should arrive at Colon on February 24 and at Corinto on February 26.

"His Majesty's government feels that the presence of a war vessel may have a moral effect and would be a base of refuge for British subjects."

"It is, of course, not intended to land forces and the commanding officer will be instructed accordingly."

"Informing you of the above, I am instructed to express once more to the United States government the thanks of his Majesty's government for the assistance, and to add that his Majesty's government will continue to rely on it."

Meanwhile, Senator Borah's resolution, providing for a trip to Nicaragua and Mexico by the Senate foreign relations committee, with a view to investigation of conditions, received a setback when Secretary Kellogg made it known to the committee that he did not favor the plan.

Action by the committee on the Borah resolution was again postponed yesterday. The understanding is that the resolution will not command a majority of the votes of the committee, especially in view of the administration's opposition.

Nicaragua Conservatives Seek to Prevent Battle

Managua, Nicaragua, Feb. 24 (By A. P.).—Reports from the fighting zone in the interior of Nicaragua today indicated that the liberal generals, Moncada and Mena, are centralizing their forces for a concentrated attack either on Matagalpa or Granada.

Leading conservatives in Managua are attempting to prevent the fighting by forming a delegation to proceed to Gen. Moncada's lines in an effort to persuade him that further fighting is senseless.

President Diaz's proposal made to the United States for a 10-year treaty has not yet been submitted formally to the Nicaraguan congress but is the subject of much discussion.

Maj. A. W. Bloor, military attaché of the United States Central American mission, reported today that the American legation for indefinite duty to study the Nicaraguan situation, Maj. Bloor, in company with American Minister Eberhardt and Charge d'Affaires Lawrence, Dennis, paid an official visit to Managua.

Maj. Bloor is a native of Pittsburgh and was last stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

Loebe Operated On; Outcome Uncertain

Berlin, Feb. 24 (By A. P.).—Paul Loeb, president of the reichstag, underwent an operation today for acute appendicitis. The operation revealed old adhesions, due to a former attack, with acute inflammation, already developing suppuration and the beginning of a perforation in the peritoneal cavity.

Thus it was difficult to predict what the outcome would be. Dr. Mortiz Borchart, one of the leading surgeons of Berlin, was the operating surgeon.

"Peaches" Home from Bermuda.

New York, Feb. 24 (By A. P.).—Mrs. Frances (Peaches) Brownning and her mother, Mrs. Carolyn M. Hennan, returned today from a two weeks' trip to Bermuda. Mrs. Brownning, who is expected to decide in a few days whether to separate suit against her husband, declined to pose for photographers at the pier.

APPEALS COURT UPHOLDS COOLIDGE TARIFF POWER

Question of Authority on Duties Probably Will Reach Supreme Tribunal.

CASE ON BARIUM DIOXIDE

(By the Associated Press.)

The constitutionality of the flexible provisions of the tariff law, whereby the President may raise or lower import duties 50 per cent, was upheld yesterday by the United States court of customs appeals. The question probably will be carried to the Supreme Court.

The court held that the delegation of such authority to the President was a valid exercise of the constitutional grant of power to Congress to regulate commerce. Its purpose is to equalize the difference in cost of production in this and the principal competing countries.

In raising the question of constitutionality, J. W. Hampton, Jr. & Co., New York importers, contended that the flexible provision section attempted to delegate to the President power to legislate and to tax, which only can be exercised by Congress. The section is not a provision for tax, duty or excise, but a provision for tariff.

The court held broadly that in foreign commerce, the power to regulate included authority to levy discriminatory duties and the right to prohibit. This legislative right was held to be absolute.

Interstate commerce, the court ruled, is not to regulate internal power to prohibit when the nature of the traffic prohibited requires such action for the public welfare. In such cases, the court said, the test was the character of the act prohibited, and there is no reasonable ground, resulting from public necessity, for prohibition of commerce should not be upheld.

The constitutionality of the flexible tariff provisions was raised after the President had increased the duty on barium dioxide, imported by the Hampton company from 4 to 6 cents a pound.

French Decorations Banned by Blanton

Because France has not paid her war debt to this country, Representative Blanton (Democrat), Texas, last night blocked passage of two bills which would have authorized the award of French decorations to American officers.

"I want France to know," Blanton declared, "that we will not reward officers who accept decorations from the French government."

The officers are Commander Robert E. Todd, naval reserve, and Capt. Thomas L. Johnson.

DAY IN CONGRESS

Met at noon February 24 and adjourned at 6:15 p. m. until today at 12 o'clock.

Senator Reed's effort to take up his resolution extending life of "salus fund" committee for another year led to acrimonious debate between himself and Senator Robinson (Republican), of Indiana.

Senator Robinson charged the Missouri senator with using the Senate campaign fund investigation committee to advance his own aspirations for Democratic nomination for presidency.

Senator Reed entered an indignant denial and declared vehemently that the statement made by the Indiana senator was absolutely false.

Adopted resolution by Senator Norris of Nebraska, calling upon Secretary of State to determine whether Doheny, Sinclair and Mellon interests, either through corporations or otherwise, are among those owning or claiming oil lands or oil concessions in Mexico which have refused to accept Mexican laws applicable to such lands.

Mr. Reed's resolution requesting information relative to exports of American farm products and what measures have been taken to stimulate their consumption in foreign countries.

Elections committee reported resolution allowing Senator Gould, of Maine, to reimburse himself for expenses incurred in defending himself against charges filed with committee and which have been investigated.

This was done while Senator Reed held the floor and when the Arizona senator appealed from the decision of chair in granting that privilege to Senator Johnson.

TEMPERS FLARE IN SENATE; MANY MEASURES ARE DOOMED

of the Senate, which led them both to send to the Vice President's desk petitions for cloture on Boulder dam and the emergency officers' retirement bills, respectively.

The Reed resolution asking for an extension of the life of that committee was talked to death in a general debate between its author, Reed, of Missouri, and the two Indiana senators, Robinson and Watson. A move to make it the unfinished business was threatened, but not pressed.

As the legislative slate now stands, Boulder dam is still the unfinished business. Senator Reed, of Missouri, may if he can do so before 1 o'clock today, displace Boulder dam with his resolution, for before that hour his motion will not be debatable.

Even if he succeeds in making it the unfinished business he will have only a few minutes to make his case. Saturday at 1 o'clock the Senate will vote first on the Johnson cloture petition. It is predicted that it will pass, at a dose an immediate vote will be had on the Tyson cloture. It is expected to carry.

In the event that either or both obtain the votes of two-thirds of the Senate, the measure or measures will stay before the Senate to the exclusion of all other business.

Such an arrangement will enable all the senators who wish to waste time to talk at least an hour either for or against the Tyson bill.

The probabilities are that this will mean that no vote can be reached until the middle of next week and by that time the Senate will be so exhausted that even a modest filibuster will accomplish what its authors seek, and lead to all further controversial legislation.

Philbust on Reed Plan.

The anticipated filibuster against the Reed resolutions, designed to either block the proposal to continue the life of the committee or else amend it so that the time unit of adjournment will be gained by the Democrats began soon after the Senate met.

The first challenge came from Senator David A. Reed, of Pennsylvania, who questioned giving the committee authority to open only such ballot boxes as it saw fit.

Thad, however, to the hostilities of the debate between Senator Reed, of Missouri, and Senator Robinson, of Indiana. The latter not only attacked the method followed by the senatorial committee in Indiana but suggested by inference that the extension of the life of the committee would serve as a device for furthering the ambitions of the Missouri senator for the Democratic presidential nomination.

When the committee arrived in Indiana the vehicle in which it had been progressing degenerated into a garbage can. Senator Robinson, with the venerable senator from Missouri on the front seat and alone.

Senator Robinson also made some charges relative to the way in which the committee had been conducted.

WASHINGTONIANS GIVE "CHIMES OF NORMANDY"

Members Show Great Enthusiasm in Presenting the Noted Light Opera.

ARANCIO IS IN FINE VOICE

That undaunted group of opera enthusiasts, "The Washingtonians," presented another light opera, "The Chimes of Normandy," last night at the Wardman Park theater.

Rollin Bond, whose efforts for good music in Washington have resulted in the presentation of several operas here in the last few years, acted as general manager of the opera and its musical director. Mr. Bond was somewhat hampered last night by the lack of an adequate orchestra, but the musicians who responded to his leadership made up in enthusiasm what they lacked in numbers and a pleasant spirit of comradeship prevailed throughout the performance.

Gayle Hunt as Serpentina, and Elsie Schulte as Germaine, tied for first honors in the feminine roles. Miss Hunt's voice is one of real beauty and she has winsome charm and charm besides. Miss Schulte displayed dramatic force as well as acceptable vocal qualities. Several of her arias were particularly well done and in the second act she received an ovation.

The outstanding voice of the opera was that of Agostino Arancio, who took the part of Jean Grenichew. Although he somewhat overplayed his role, his excellent voice made up for that. It has real promise and great sweetness in the upper register. Harry Myers as Henri had a good barytone and a nice stage presence.

The best acting on the men's side was done by Charles Gordon as Cleopatra's friend. His big scene in the third act, which is set in the haunted chateau, was really very well done and his "Gold" song was given with artistic finish.

A pleasing innovation was the playing of two classical numbers on the violin by Rose Novak, a member of the chorus, in the intermission between the first and second acts. Miss Novak had a lovely tone and played with grace and artistic finish.

One of the best things about the Washingtonians is the work of its ensemble and last night was no exception to this general rule. The voices of the ensemble were fresh and young and the choruses were sung in a gay and sprightly manner.

Among others in the cast of characters who deserve mention for good work: Gladys Hunt, Dorothy Davenport, Betty Waters, Virginia Doyle, Wesley B. Peckham, O. C. Barber, Gibson Maxwell, Brewster Marshall and Anthony Arancio.

The personnel of the ensemble was as follows: Mary Wheeler, Dorothy Davenport, Gladys Hunt, Betty Waters, Virginia Doyle, Ruth Eitel Ward, Ruth McCormick, Florence McMillan, Geneva Maxwell, Rose Novak, Thelma Doyle, Bessie Doolan, Marguerite Maxwell, Philip Hoghaug, W. E. Rice, Ralph Bellette, Gibson Maxwell, S. B. Covert, Charles Maxwell, Charles Hunt, Joshua Dillinger, Brewster Marshall, O. C. Barber, Jesse Nusser and J. R. Veinmeyer.

The performance will be repeated to-night and tomorrow night.

Copeland Is Honored By Class of G. W. U.

Senator Copeland, of New York, and members of the Georgetown university faculty were guests of the second-year morning law class at its annual dinner given last night at the Lee house.

Edward L. Wright, president of the law school class, was toastmaster and Thomas Bell chairman of the committee that arranged the function. Guests included the Rev. Charles W. Lyons, president of the university; George E. Hamilton, dean of the law school; Hugh J. Fegan, assistant dean, and Prof. William J. Price, Charles W. Tooke, Charles A. Kelvin and Robert A. Maurer, of the law faculty. Sixty persons attended.

Bell Reappointment Backed by Citizens

The reappointment of Lieut. Col. Bell as engineer commissioner of the District was recommended in a letter to the President of the United States sent by the Conduit Road Citizens association at a meeting held last night in St. David's parish hall.

The letter commended the work of Col. Bell as engineer commissioner and urged that he be reappointed to the post. The association endorsed the bill of Senator Capper and Representative Zihlman, providing that high school pupils be given free textbooks. A resolution commending the administration of Dr. Ballou and the board of education was adopted. Miss Cora Van Sant, secretary of the association, was nominated for a position on the advisory council. The president of the association, Robert A. Adams, presided.

1 KILLED, 200 SAVED AS SHIPS COLLIDE IN THE CHESAPEAKE

to the City of Richmond from his berth.

A hero who modestly retired before his name was learned saved Miss Collier's life when she was pushed over the side of the City of Annapolis, while attempting to scramble aboard the City of Richmond.

"I only had time to put on a coat over my night clothing and then ran on deck," Miss Collier said. "Some of the women were screaming, but others were calm. Men were standing on the decks of both boats, handing the women and children from one to the other. I thought I could get across without any assistance, and it nearly cost me my life. So many people were crowding and pushing each other trying to get to the City of Richmond that I was shoved off the deck, and fell into the water. The man must have seen me fall, for he jumped in after me. He held me up and helped me reach the ladder of the City of Richmond, where we clung until a rope was let down to pull us up."

Rives Fleming, president of the Cameron Stove Co., of Richmond, Va., who occupied cabin 78 on the City of Annapolis, told his bed being crumpled by the City of Richmond's invading hull, a few minutes after he had left it. He said cabin 79, which adjoined his, appeared totally crushed.

Saw Prow Approaching.

Fleming's life was saved by a glance from the porthole when the siren awoke him. He saw the hull of the City of Richmond bearing down and rushed across the room before the vessel crashed. His cabin door was jammed shut, but the panels were knocked out and a ship's officer pulled him free.

A woman's screams, which continued for five minutes, were heard by George Steiff, of Baltimore. He ran on deck to find the ships "jammed in a knot together."

Passengers praised the cool-headedness of Capt. H. E. Wellington, of the City of Richmond, bearing down and rushed across the room before the vessel crashed. His cabin door was jammed shut, but the panels were knocked out and a ship's officer pulled him free.

Both said the other had appeared suddenly from the dense fog. Both had siren sounding and both attempted to reverse their engines, but it was too late.

Fight to Get Off Sinking Craft.

Davis Snyder, of Richmond, was the first of the rescued passengers to come ashore from the City of Richmond when she returned here. "There was a regular war to see who would get off the sinking ship first," Snyder said. Miss Edith Lacey, of Williamsburg, Va., escaped in a lifeboat. "Too much praise can not be given the crews of the two ships," she said, "for the manner in which they handled such a terrible situation. I don't think I was on deck more than three minutes before I was placed in a lifeboat and in another five minutes I was aboard the City of Richmond."

The City of Richmond, which was en route from Baltimore to West Point, met her sister ship about midway of the voyage. She was in a dense fog and fog bank to bury her prow in the side of the City of Annapolis just back of the bow. The crash was so great that passengers on both ships were hurled from their berths. A few minutes after the collision half-clad men and women were swarming from the cabins of the City of Annapolis, over the shattered planking to safety on the deck of the City of Richmond, thrust fifteen feet into the side of their own vessel. It was not until all were off that the City of Annapolis dropped away and sank, leaving only her stacks above water.

Subchaser to the Scene.

The first report of the accident was received by the Naval Academy wireless station at Annapolis from the steamship St. Anthony.

The St. Anthony requested medical aid, and a subchaser was started from Annapolis with doctors and nurses by Rear Admiral Louis M. Nulton, academy superintendent, but the rescue ship was turned back by further word from the St. Anthony that all passengers had been taken off and that she was proceeding to Norfolk.

Capt. Charles O. Brooks, of the bay steamer City of Baltimore, telephoned from Old Point to the Maritime Exchange here this forenoon that his ship arrived off Smiths point just as the last survivor was being taken off the sinking vessel. He said:

"It was foggy; one of those dripping, thick kind that shuts out everything. I can easily see how a collision might have occurred. When I saw there was nothing to do, I kept on down the bay."

The City of Annapolis lies in about 60 feet of water, with her two smokestacks protruding above the surface. The City of Richmond left Baltimore at 6 p. m. yesterday, and the City of Annapolis left West Point, on the York river, at about the same time.

Officials of the Chesapeake Bay Steamship Co. said the City of Annapolis was valued at between $750,000 and $1,000,000.

The Federal board of steamboat inspectors will hold an inquiry into the causes of the collision tomorrow.

Capital Steamer at Scene.

Newport News, Va., Feb. 24 (By A. P.).—Passengers reaching here this morning on the District of Columbia from Washington reported that the City of Annapolis went down about 2 o'clock. The Washington steamer came on reaching the scene of the accident, but there was little or nothing she could do, the passengers having been transferred to the City of Richmond.

As the District of Columbia hove to, many of the passengers aboard her awakened with a start and with news that another ship was sinking rushed to the deck. The City of Richmond was playing her searchlight on the wrecked City of Annapolis and two boats, both of them small, were standing by.

There was a gaping hole in the side of the sinking ship and the City of Richmond's bow was badly stove in.

Everything was obscured by a heavy fog and it is thought that the collision was a result of this. The District of Columbia felt her way out of the Potomac and down the bay, her foghorn sounding at frequent intervals.

C. M. Mark, secretary of the Newport News Chamber of Commerce, one of the passengers on the Washington boat, said that when the District of Columbia reached the scene all the passengers and crew had been taken off the sinking ship, according to reports made to the master of the steamer on which he was a passenger. Women and children fled the ship first, and the transfer was made without disorder, this despite the difficulty of transferring the passengers under cover of darkness and fog.

Mardi Gras Opened
By New Orleans Ball

New Orleans, La., Feb. 24 (By A. P.).—Mornus, Delty of Joy and Mirth, Love and Laughter threw open the doors of the Mardi Gras carnival here tonight with the first parade and the first major ball of the season.

Under thousands of electric lights lining the streets, glowing in radiant streamers from Canal street buildings and forming a brilliant canopy over the other principal streets, Mornus led his parade of a score of elaborate floats. Hundreds of negroes garbed in colors of the rainbow served as torch bearers for the monarch as he led his krewe from its den in Challope street through the city to open his ball at the Athenaeum.

Frederick F. Peabody
Dies in California

Santa Barbara, Calif., Feb. 24 (By A. P.).—Social activities in Santa Barbara came to a full stop today because of the death of Frederick Peabody, former president of the Cluett, Peabody Co., collar manufacturers, of Troy, N. Y.

Mr. Peabody's death late last night, after having been stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage last Sunday, ended eighteen years of residence here during which he became widely known for his civic and philanthropic activities.

On April 5, 1920, Mr. Peabody married to Miss Kathleen Burke, noted war time relief worker, she being his second wife.

Widow of Herbert,
Composer, Is Dead

New York, Feb. 24 (By A. P.).—Mrs. Victor Herbert, widow of the composer, died at her home in Fifth avenue today. She had been in ill health since the shock of her husband's sudden death here in 1924.

Mrs. Herbert, who was Therese Forster, prima donna, was married to the composer in 1886. She became acquainted with him while both were studying music in Stuttgart. She was a pupil of Dr. Leopold Damrosch.

She was about 60 years old. She is survived by a son, Clifford, and a daughter, Ella.

Heart Disease Fatal
To Anna E. Thompson

Stricken with a heart attack as she was entering her home, 1925 Fifteenth street northwest, at 6:30 o'clock last night on her return from a meeting of principals of colored schools, Anna E. Thompson, principal of the Slater-Langston school, died within a few minutes.

Miss Thompson was 55 years old and had been a teacher in the colored public schools for the last 35 years. Funeral arrangements had not been completed last night.

PERRY P. PATRICK DEAD.

Leader in Knights of Pythias to Be Buried in Rock Creek Cemetery.

Perry P. Patrick, prominent among Washington Knights of Pythias, died yesterday at his home, 905 Webster street northwest, following a brief illness. Mr. Patrick was a lifelong resident of Washington and had been connected for several years with the Globe-Wernicke Co. here. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lily Patrick, and a son, Percy Patrick.

Funeral services will be held at the residence at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. He will be buried in Rock Creek cemetery. Mr. Patrick was past grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, and had held several other honor offices in the fraternity.

SMITH FUNERAL TODAY.

First Lieutenant of Signal Corps Will Be Buried in Arlington.

Burial of First Lieut. Chester H. Smith, signal corps, who died at Fort Hayes, Ohio, Wednesday, will take place in Arlington National cemetery this afternoon at 2 o'clock, following services at Fort Myer chapel at 1:30 o'clock.

Lieut. Smith was born in this city February 18, 1883, and entered the service as a corporal in Company H, signal enlisted reserve corps, going overseas with the 305th field signal battalion, Eightieth division. He was commissioned a first lieutenant in 1920. The widow, Mrs. Mary Waters Smith, survives.

Lieut. Neland Rites Today.

Funeral services for First Lieut. Earle S. Neland, field artillery, who died at Walter Reed hospital Wednesday, will be held in the Dewey division of Arlington National cemetery this morning at 11:30 o'clock, following services at Fort Myer chapel at 11 o'clock.

BRITISH DOUBT NOTE WILL CHECK SOVIET

Ramsay MacDonald Warns of Peril if Diplomatic Break Results.

London, Feb. 24 (By A. P.).—Great Britain's stern protest to Russia was forwarded to Moscow this morning by M. Rosenholz, soviet representative in London. The British government has threatened to break off relations with the Union Soviet Socialist Republics if Russia does not cease permitting the spread of propaganda and denunciations against the British empire.

The foreign office does not expect Russia to reply for a week or more, and among officials there is a feeling of futility with regard to any immediate definite results. The general feeling is that the government acted properly in administering a grave warning, so that if a break comes the soviet government can not say it was not warned.

Ramsay MacDonald, the former labor premier, in a statement today, said: "The real question is whether this is a first step for eliminating grievances or toward breaking off diplomatic relations. If the latter, I solemnly warn the government that it is only going to lead to great difficulties and to increase the liberty which mischief makers now have to damage Great Britain in every part of the world."

Ham and Sugar in Loot.

Henry W. Ballinger, manager of the Sanitary Grocery company store at 1106 Sixth street northeast, reported to police of the Ninth precinct yesterday that some one had entered the store during the night by breaking the screen door and glass in the window and had stolen a ham and a quantity of sugar, and had ransacked the cash register. The total loss, he reported, was $15.

W. C. Bronson Speaks To Brown Alumni

Prof. W. C. Bronson, retiring from long years of service at the university, was the principal speaker at the annual Brown University Alumni club dinner at the Wardman Park hotel last night.

Senator Jesse H. Metcalf, of Rhode Island, and Senator Fred M. Sackett, of Kentucky, also spoke. Arthur J. Sundt, president of the Washington Brown Alumni club, presided.

The fathers of several students from Washington were special guests at the dinner. They were R. H. McNally, E. K. Carpenter, R. R. Mackenzie, F. M. Flint, H. H. Hodges and B. Livingston, whose daughter attends Pembroke, the girls' school.

Senate Votes Naval Depot in Nevada

(By the Associated Press.)

The Senate passed and sent to the House yesterday a bill to authorize a naval ammunition depot at Hawthorne, Nev. It stipulated that the cost should not exceed $3,500,000.

The navy has found a way which it believes will prevent explosions such as wrecked the ammunition storage depot at Lake Denmark, N. J., and it was found that by reducing the size of storage buildings to a capacity of only 143,000 pounds, strengthening them by making them of reinforced concrete, partly submerging them and placing them 500 feet apart, an explosion in one will be rendered ineffective so far as the remaining storage houses are concerned.

Devitt Team to Debate Staunton.

Resolved that the United States should maintain a separate air force, is the question which will be debated by teams representing the Devitt Preparatory school and the Staunton Military academy at 8 o'clock tonight in Corcoran hall of George Washington university.

Departments Supply Bill Signed.

The annual appropriation bill for the Departments of State, Justice, Commerce, and Labor became law yesterday, when President Coolidge signed it.

CIVIC SERVICE LAUDED AT Y'S MEN'S DINNER

Recently Formed Club Receives Charter From International Group at Banquet.

Service in civic affairs was acclaimed last night as the duty of the recently formed Washington Y's Men's club, by speakers who addressed members of the organization at their charter night banquet in the Hamilton hotel. George J. Richardson, president of the local club, acted as toastmaster.

Senator Gerald P. Nye, of North Dakota; William Knowles Cooper, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., with which the club is affiliated, and Harold W. Bennett, international director of the Y's Men's club, told of the role which the new organization should play in the civic improvements of the Capital, and this theme was developed by Gov. Barton, head of Y's club activities in the District area. Mr. Bennett presented the local organization with a charter from the International Y's club, the response being delivered by Mr. Richardson.

Representatives of local civic clubs who spoke briefly were Dr. Everett M. Ellison, Knights of the Round Table; M. D. Shafer, Comopolitan club, and Frank M. Pierce, Optimist club. They extended greetings and good wishes on behalf of their organizations. Singing by the assemblage opened the meeting, and there were readings by Rose Pasternack and Eleanor Crothers, of Marjorie Webster school, and Guy W. Lane, a song by Charles A. McDonald, blind barytone, was a feature of the musical program. Other singers included Mrs. Beattie Birch Haycock, soprano, and Mrs. Fannie Shreve Hearrell, accompanied by Christopher Tenley, Harry J. Miller, secretary of the Y's club, was chairman of the committee of arrangements. Approximately 100 persons attended.

THREE CRUISERS VOTED.

The House of Representatives expressed its real sentiments in regard to national defense yesterday when it agreed to the Senate amendment providing for construction of three new cruisers. Speaker Longworth made a most persuasive speech in favor of the amendment, and undoubtedly voiced the opinion of the American people on the subject.

The plea that a vote against the cruisers would be a vote against the President's efforts to bring about a naval arms conference had little effect upon the House. It is apparent that hopes of general limitation of navies may as well be abandoned for the time being. The necessity of keeping America's naval defenses up to date would remain, whether an arms conference were held or not. No foreign nation is disarming itself. The most that could be expected, and all that President Coolidge has suggested, is a possible cessation of competitive building. The three cruisers now provided for will not increase American naval strength to a point even remotely resembling competition with either Great Britain or Japan. The United States would have to build 40 cruisers before it would appear to be competing with Great Britain.

The refusal of France and Italy to agree to enter a conference for limiting construction of minor vessels can not mean anything else than the death knell of that proposal. Whatever Great Britain and Japan may say in general, they will not commit themselves to the limitation of cruiser construction so long as France and Italy refuse to limit their naval programs, which will probably take the form of additional submarine construction. When the time comes for President Coolidge to order the construction of the three cruisers provided for, it is not to be expected that he will ignore the defensive requirements of the United States merely because he hopes, sooner or later, to bring about an arms limitation conference.

THE CHESAPEAKE BAY COLLISION.

One shudders to think of what might have happened when the bay steamer City of Richmond collided with the City of Annapolis a mile off the mouth of the Potomac river. The latter vessel carried 47 passengers in addition to its crew of 53, all but one of whom are reported saved. A heavy, dripping fog shut out all visibility and the City of Richmond crashed bow on into the City of Annapolis. So terrific was the impact, that the two steamers became wedged together, and passengers of the Annapolis were able to crawl over the bow of the Richmond to safety. A woman is believed to have perished in her stateroom which was pierced by the prow of the Richmond.

The captain of the City of Richmond, H. E. Long, upheld the best traditions of the sea in directing the rescue. As soon as the crash had been ordered his helmsman to keep the bow of his ship buried in the gaping hole torn in the City of Annapolis, which prevented its sinking until the passengers had been taken out. As soon as the bow of the Richmond was withdrawn the Annapolis sank, and it lies submerged in ten fathoms of water, with only the funnels exposed.

An investigation will be held, of course, although it is probable that no blame can be attached to the master of either vessel in view of the dense fog that prevailed.

DEPORTATION OF UNDESIRABLES.

According to the report made to the House committee on appropriations by Mr. White, Assistant Secretary of Labor, there are 111,773 aliens confined in the public and penal institutions of the country at the present time. These figures were presented as the result of a survey conducted by the Department of Labor and in accord with the law which authorizes the deportation of criminal and mentally deficient aliens. Mr. White told the committee that he was unable to say just how many of these undesirable would eventually be sent back, but that the present rate of deportation is about 1,000 a month.

The total number deported last year was 10,904, and it is expected that the present rate will be continued during the year, so that by January, 1928, the number of alien inmates of the poorhouses, prisons and insane institutions will have been reduced below 100,000.

The appropriations committee appears to be willing to aid the department in the solution of the problem of disposing of these aliens, and to this end there has been appropriated for the immigration bureau nearly half a million dollars more for the next fiscal year than was appropriated for the current year. But it is not likely that the number of deportations will be greatly increased. The department expects that the change in the matter of inspecting emigrants abroad, before the issue of passport visas, will have a beneficial effect in the near future. That law, however, has not yet been in force long enough to enable the commissioner general of immigration to determine definitely whether or not it will affect, to a marked extent, the number of immigrants who will eventually find their way into our jails, penitentiaries and asylums.

The number of such confined aliens as given by the Assistant Secretary to the committee includes those reported in every immigration district of the country except Spokane, Helena and Jacksonville. When returns of the survey are received from those districts the department will have for the first time an accurate record. The act which authorizes the deportations was approved in 1917. That which provides for medical inspection before the passport of the emigrant may receive the consular visa was passed in 1925.

THE FIGHT ON COMMUNISM.

The action of the British government in dispatching a gunboat to Corinto is welcomed by the United States for its moral effect upon the conspirators who have persisted in the attempt to overturn constitutional government in Nicaragua.

The United States is responsible for the safety of British subjects in Nicaragua and will extend protection to them as well as to all other foreigners, as it is bound to do under the Monroe doctrine. But the presence of the British warship will be a wholesome reminder to the Mexican government that the criticisms of American policy by United States senators afford a poor foundation for the hope that communism can be spread throughout Central America. The United States must and will maintain popular government throughout this hemisphere, not only for the sake of its own interest and its own citizens but for the sake of foreigners.

Calles and his communist accomplices in Mexico and Nicaragua are up against a losing game in both countries. The attempt to substitute communist regimes for constitutional governments in the New World is a hare-brained scheme that could only be undertaken by ignorant and unprincipled adventurers. The people of North and South America are opposed to communism and will destroy it whenever necessity arises. They are tackling it with vigor in Chile, and will soon imprison or expel the leaders, native and foreign, who have tried to disintegrate the Chilean army and navy. Uruguay is badly tainted with communism, but the liberty-loving population of that country is beginning to revolt against the attempt to destroy their government. Guatemala, under communist Mexican influence, will regain popular government as soon as the Calles regime collapses, if not sooner.

Whenever communism reaches the point where it endangers American and foreign life and property by subverting popular government, the United States will be compelled to take a hand. In doing this it will not interfere with the right of each republic to govern itself with officers of its own choosing. The United States is not interested in persons or parties in neighboring republics, but it is vitally concerned in the maintenance of republican governments. The struggle between republicanism and communism, because it endangers Americans and American interests, compels the United States to defend republican governments against extinction.

The same necessity which required President Monroe to put a stop to imperial quest in this hemisphere now requires President Coolidge to put a stop to communist conquest. Communism is imperialism under a mask. It robs peoples of the power to govern themselves and exploits them for the benefit of a few ringleaders. It runs afoul of constitutional governments by attempting to rob their citizens also and by trampling upon all international obligations.

President Coolidge, in a few calm words, expressed the purpose of the United States in dealing with this new and deadly danger to popular government. He declared, in effect, that the United States would not permit a country like Nicaragua to fall into anarchy through outside aggression. He is now executing that policy. A few senators, with a wealth of ignorance of the facts, are trying to convince the American people that their government is moved by unworthy motives in Nicaragua and Mexico. But the people trust the President, and will not be deceived by the fallacious arguments of those who are willingly or unwittingly encouraging communism in this hemisphere.

BOULDER DAM.

A motion to apply the cloture rule to the Boulder dam bill will be voted upon by the Senate tomorrow.

The Senate should not approve of the Boulder dam project at this time. It is an unripe and uncertain plan, and many questions concerning it have not been answered. It is proposed to take $125,000,000 from the Treasury to build an extremely high dam on the Colorado river. The government's bitter experience in projects of this kind ought to serve as a reminder that the estimated cost of $125,000,000 for Boulder dam is nothing but guesswork, and that $250,000,000 would probably be nearer the ultimate cost of this work. Many years would be required in the building, and in the meantime the settlers of Imperial valley would be in danger of inundation.

What Congress should do at this time is to appropriate emergency funds for raising the levees along the Colorado, so that the settlers will be protected against the threatened floods of next summer. Then a more careful survey should be made of the Boulder dam project, and the warring States interested should be required to get together and agree upon a plan which can be submitted to Congress. When two or more States interpose strenuous objections to the Boulder dam project it is obvious that something is wrong with the plan. It should not be logrolled through Congress merely because certain States are satisfied that they will get what they want. If the United States is to finance this proposition, let it do so in behalf of all the States, and not in favor of some States to the detriment of others.

AIRPLANE SPEED CONTEST.

On March 1 the entry list closes for next autumn's Schneider cup races, and so far no American entry has been secured. The National Aeronautic association, however, is considering the advisability of filing one or more blank entries, in which event the association will be able to renew its efforts to find planes and pilots for the event. Filing of the blank carries with it the posting of an entry fee of approximately $200 per ship to guarantee the plane's participation in the race. Should the association be unable to produce the planes in the fall, this fee would be forfeited.

It is an arduous task to conceive, design and construct a racing plane, one for which even the year between races is little enough time. With but six months remaining before the event the task becomes more difficult. Italy, however, last year designed and built three new planes and engines in seven months, with which it took the cup. This energy in the construction of racing aircraft constitutes a handsome challenge to the United States.

The United States navy has definitely withdrawn from racing activities, and it is up to private capital to make possible further participation in these international events. Should the United States win the cup this autumn it would become a permanent possession. Surely this is sufficient incentive to spur on American racing enthusiasts. An additional reward, however, is obtainable in the knowledge to be gained in the construction and competition of these planes. The National Aeronautic association should act in behalf of America in this matter.

THE SIGNAL SCANDAL.

The District commissioners have acted properly in suspending I. C. Moller, assistant traffic director, pending further investigation of his transactions with a concern furnishing automatic traffic signals to the District government. Moller admitted before the subcommittee of the House District committee that he had given advance information to the concern in question, which gave it an advantage over other bidders, and that he had falsely certified as to the number of signals received.

A rigid investigation of this transaction should be made. It is quite obvious that all the facts have not been disclosed.

LOCATING THE ABATTOIR.

The Aurora Hills Civic league and the Virginia Highlands Citizens association have raised their voices with many others in protest against the proposed location of an abattoir in Arlington county. A petition has been drawn up calling on the board of supervisors to revoke the permit for its erection, although it is said that the company contemplating the improvement does not wish to oppose the people and is willing to waive official sanction and apply for a new permit. Under a recent ordinance, application for permits of this character must be advertised for two weeks for a public hearing.

It is necessary that a convenient location be obtained for this industry, so that Washington may be assured an ample supply of fresh meat, but provision should be made for the location of the abattoir as far as possible from residential and recreational zones. Arlington county is essentially residential. Upon the completion of the Memorial bridge it will become also a recreation zone, and at least part of the land upon which it is proposed to locate the abattoir will be needed for park and boulevard purposes. Furthermore, should the plant be installed in Arlington county, it is not unlikely that objectionable odors would drift across the river and into Potomac park to the discomfort and displeasure of thousands of recreation seekers.

There are other places in the vicinity of the District in which an abattoir might be located without objection. The company concerned should not make an issue of the matter, and should welcome the cooperation of public officials and citizens in deciding on a proper location for this important industry.

THE ORANGE SHORTAGE.

The Department of Agriculture has just made public a piece of bad news for the parlor beverage connoisseur. Last September it made an estimate of the number of boxes of grapefruit and oranges which would be shipped to the frozen North from Florida during the current season. Then along came the hurricane and the estimate had to be reduced considerably. Recently, however, the sunny Southland has been visited by Jack Frost, and now the estimate has been cut still further. In all, says the department, 8,000,000 boxes of oranges and 5,500,000 boxes of grapefruit will be consigned northward. This is 10 per cent below the estimate issued prior to the hurricane.

It is to be hoped that no one will suffer severely during this emergency, and if the general public cooperates wholeheartedly it is safe to predict that the country will come through the crisis without permanent ill effect. It is, of course, folly to plead for utilization of substitutes, of which there are none satisfactory. An orange is an orange, and a grapefruit is a grapefruit, and the public depends upon these unique citrus fruits. Rigid economy must be the order of the day. Two oranges must be made to do the work of three in all well-regulated cocktails.

California may be able to step into the breach and supply part of the deficit. Greater use may be made of limes and lemons as a conservation measure. Possibly the mint crop will be above normal this spring and effect a considerable contribution to the general relief. With genuine cooperation the crisis can be weathered.

The brain was made to think with, but the pocketbook forms most of the opinions.

 Boston Transcript: Some men are gluttons for work; others may be called epicures.

Why Go So Far?
 Detroit Free Press: An expedition will leave this country soon for the purpose of making excavations on the sites of Sodom and Gomorrah. Is it possible that they can not dig up enough wickedness at home?

British Negotiations.
 Philadelphia Public Ledger: The British experiment in negotiating an agreement with the Chinese national government will be watched by all the nations involved in China. The British have been a step ahead of the others in attempting to develop a technique adequate to the chaotic situation, which amounts to a condition of multiple government in a nation which, so far as outsiders are concerned, presents a peculiarly united front. The United States so far has maintained its position of refusing to deal with

Fame

By ROBERT QUILEN

WHEN Bismarck had returned home after a clever diplomatic stroke that tended to make Germany great, he refused to show himself to the crowds that gathered to cheer him. "What would they have done," he asked his servant, "if I had failed?" He knew that people cheer only those who grind their ax.

In time of peace you hear no cheers for soldiers. People do not feel indignant because soldiers are improperly housed and inadequately fed. They give no thought to soldiers.

What, then, is the meaning of the cheers when soldiers leave for the front? The cheer is easily translated. It means: "You are going out to fight for me while I remain safely at home. Hurrah for you." The little busy bee is not more busy than the ant. Why, then, does it receive so much more praise? The answer is obvious. It stores up honey that men can steal.

Can you remember hearing any praise of the soldier on the other side who did a heroic thing? Never. The one on our side who laughs at danger is a hero; the one on the other side who laughs at danger is a brute. Men do not receive praise in proportion to their worth, but in proportion to the service rendered to those who cheer.

The more fine qualities the opposition possesses, the more he is hated and condemned. We praise the bridge that carries us over. We cheer the man who does our chores. We erect statues of the man who raked our chestnuts out of the fire.

Fame is the good opinion of those whose back you scratch. Do not despair if you are unhonored and unsung. Obscurity is no disgrace. It means only that you have attended to your own business and that nobody has used you as a cat's paw.

The sound of clapping hands is music to the vain, but those who get no applause need not despise themselves. All the world cheers the man who stands true.

Let the famous have their fame. They pay for it. If 'n obscurity you hear no cheers, neither are you hissed.

Shoes: Original cost, $12; 200 shines at 10 cents, $20; time lost while being shined, $18 to $1,865, depending on who you are.

The smaller the town the more places there are where a poor man can have a charged.

any government which does not speak for all China. The Porter resolution, passed by the House of Representatives, seeks to temper this hard and fast rule. If the British device should results, there may be a more decided inclination on the part of others to follow suit.

Home Life.
 Seattle Star: Home life in America "is falling away because there is no love between husband and wife in too many homes," says a Seattle minister to a Seattle audience. Well, of course, if you keep telling people that long And if you tell them, continually and interestingly, that American home life today is happier and packed tighter with love than ever it was, they'll believe that, too. The best of it is, the last statement is true.

Punishment.
 Philadelphia Public Ledger: There are log-rollers who indirectly helped to pass the McNary-Haugen bill who will not be chiefly happy until the President vetoes it. His present reticence is properly punishing them.

Nervous Wall Street.
 Philadelphia Record: The hasty manner in which Wall Street often rushes to conclusions was strikingly exemplified on Monday, when on a misapprehension regarding the significance of a decision given by the Supreme Court hundreds of speculators threw valuable railroad stocks overboard and doubtless incur serious losses in many cases. Then, when the damage had been done, it was learned that a wrong twist had been given to the decision, which was of much less importance than was at first supposed. Rather nervous creatures, these bulls and bears, in their pursuit of the nimble dollar.

So Unnecessary.
 Cincinnati Enquirer: It does seem that Congress is getting enough attention these days without trying to put on boxing bouts.

Discrimination.
 Indianapolis News: An Indiana flapper bandit caught in Chicago was sent to prison for three years to show what the Chicago courts do to outside competition.

And a Morgue.
 Lafayette Journal and Courier: The time may come when there will be a flivver assembling plant adjacent to every grade crossing.

Silver Lining.
 Dayton News: There is no doubt that the way of the transgressor is hard, but it generally makes the way of the lawyers pretty easy.

Prohibition's Benefits.
 Bristol Herald-Courier: One of the benefits of prohibition is that you don't often hear "Sweet Adeline." "In the Gloaming," or "Darling, I Am Growing Old," except on the phonograph, and you can turn that off.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

George Washington.
 To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Now that the birthday of George Washington is safely passed, it is to be hoped that the press may give us a rest on the question of his personal habits, whether he drank, or did not drink, where he got his hats, whether he was really a gentleman and speculation concerning his acumen as a real estate man.

Normal, right-minded people are not concerned with such piffle relative to the great figures of history. It is Washington, the hero and statesman who counts. Perhaps he was a mere, human being, but that was not what made him great; it was not his likeness to the crowd, but his unlikeness, his ability for performance beyond the average mortal that sets him apart from mankind as a great figure.

It has been said that "No man ever was a hero to his valet." But another and wiser philosopher has commented that it "depends on the kind of valet." HINDA BURKE.

Objects to British Anthem.
 To the Editor of The Post—Sir: At the celebration of Washington's birthday, Polli's theater, this morning, one of the features of the program was the playing of "God Save the King," the British anthem.

As an American citizen, please allow me to register an earnest protest against a thing so absurdly incongruous and so insulting to the memory and the cause of the great man whom the meeting was called to honor. George Washington helped to found this republic in a deep-seated and enduring protest against the whole monarchical system and conception of society. His glory was won and his service performed in combating the nation whose hymn was thus so strangely and offensively intruded upon us. That nation then and at two other great crises in our history did everything in its power to destroy the republic of George Washington and to annihilate his life work. Can anybody suggest a reason why we should pay a tribute to that nation on such an occasion as this?

At a celebration of the birthday of George V in England—would they sing "The Star-Spangled Banner"? Is there any more reason why at one of our solemn national fetes we should sing the national hymn of Great Britain than there is why we should sing the national hymn of Abyssinia, Siam, Spain, or any other country that still clings to the silly and vicious monarchical theory to which this country is and always was the absolute antithesis? AENEAS COLLINS.

Washington, February 22.

Senatorial Expenses.
 To the Editor of The Post—Sir: In your editorial regarding the proposed visit to Nicaragua by the Senate committee on foreign affairs you suggest that if the Senate should refuse to grant money for expenses the members of the committee should go anyhow, paying their own way. That is a very violent and revolutionary suggestion.

Who ever heard of a senator doing any such thing? Why, Mr. Editor, if a senator dies he won't pay his own funeral expenses. All that has to be done by the tax payers of the country. Only a few years ago a senator died, leaving an estate of more than $15,000,000. His funeral expenses were paid by the Senate, the bill of expenses including $5 for a pair of hose. If senators must junket let the people bear the burden. If the committee will give assurance it will not return if permitted to go to Nicaragua, there will be no objection to a liberal allowance for expenses.

Income Tax Service

As a part of our Service, our Income Tax Department will assist in the preparation of Individual Tax Returns.

Our experience has shown that those who delay in making returns meet with unavoidable congestion. Those who wish to take advantage of our service are urged, therefore, to do so at their earliest convenience at our different banking offices.

Miss Johnson Wed.

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Perry Johnson, to Mr. Malcolm Price Whitaker, son of Mrs. Price Whitaker, was solemnized yesterday at high noon at the home of the bride's parents, in the presence of a small group of friends and relatives of the bride and bridegroom.

The Rev. Edward L. Buckley, of St. Matthew's church, performed the ceremony. The house was decorated with spring flowers, yellow and orchid in the drawing room, with yellow oryopsis and jonquils in the dining room. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin, quite long and slightly draped on one side, with a square yoke of old rose point lace reaching to the waistline. A long court train of rose point lace, and her tulle veil, which was held close to her head in a cap of orange blossoms, fell over the train and was decorated with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss Mary Louise Johnson, of Pittsburgh, was maid of honor, and her gown was of champagne chiffon, and she wore a large hat of thin brown straw. Her bouquet was of frezias, in

Those Lucky Pullers!

MALCOLM DUART
(Copyright 1926 by Eugene Aschman)

Names and situations in this story are fictitious.

THE STORY SO FAR.
Costly gifts—furniture, a motor car, diamonds—have come to the home of Fred Pullen in Capitol Hill, from an unknown friend. The gifts follow the same pattern. Pullen, a middle-aged man, has a wife and two children. He is a successful business man. He has a certain fat man and the neighbors. "You know," Mrs. Pullen's acquaintance, a rosy young lawyer named Mr. Hamilton, and goes with her to see the fat man. The fat man drives them out of his hotel. Sam Pullen, whose own mother has "cut" Mrs. Pullen, brings word that Mrs. Pullen is "spilling the beans" about Mrs. Hamilton. Sam loves Julia, the Pullen's pretty daughter.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER LV.
SAM'S eye caught the sparkle of the diamond upon the tablecloth. He stared a moment in growing excitement.

"Holy Moses!" he exclaimed. "Another one? He read the stone. 'Where'd it come from?'"

Mrs. Pullen told him, adding a lively account of the eventful day, while he sank into a chair and listened, toying with the jewel. When she came to the news of Mr. Murtry's proposal of marriage Julia attempted to stop her rush of words, but was not successful.

"I think it is right that Sam should know," said her mother. "If you are going to marry Mr. Murtry, Sam will be interested. I am sure."

He turned to the girl. "Going to marry him?" he asked tersely.

"No," she said. "That's better," said he in evident relief. "It would interfere with my own plans. But say, dog-gone it! His eyebrows puckered ruefully. "You're going to be too blamed rich for me!"

"Of course," said Mrs. Pullen. "Now that we're so wealthy, Julia will make a great match some place. I'm sure she will. We'll go to Europe, maybe, or to a fine resort somewhere and meet millionaires."

Her eyes lifted in happy contemplation. "So many ladies have their pictures in the paper in short skirts, showing their knees, Julia and I both have nice knees, Sam."

The girl emitted a little cry of protest. "You have so," rejoined her mother. "Isn't she great?"

"Well," he said, "if she has, I wouldn't be chatting with Sam about it."

"Sam's just a boy," declared Mrs. Pullen. "He's been like a brother to Julia. But you understand, Sam, she added, turning to the youth, "all as soon as the money comes I must be looking for a suitable match for her."

His buoyant air had given place to a scowl. "Discomfort," "Is that straight goods?" he asked, appealing to Julia. She looked at him with serious eyes. "I'm sure," she said, demurely, "that that's exactly what mama will do."

ton was trying to squeeze money out of the fat man. Good night."

He turned into the hall, and the door closed after him an instant later. "It's too bad Sam isn't a millionaire," Mrs. Pullen resumed when he was gone. "He's real lively company sometimes. I remember he took me once and tumbled me on the couch and made me stay there."

"What's the difference," asked her husband, "whether he's a millionaire or not? He's a good, square kid."

"But Julia must marry into society now," the mother said. "We'll have a fine house and over a hundred thousand dollars."

"That's a long way from a million," her husband observed.

"But millionaires don't always marry girls as rich as they are," his wife pointed out. "We can dress Julia up in fine clothes, and take her to an elegant hotel some place, and the rich men will just buzz around! Look at Mr. Murtry. He's rich."

Julia sat back in silence, and studied her mother as the older woman rattled on.

"I wish we could keep this diamond," Mrs. Pullen touched it with her forefinger. "It would make such a lovely pendant. Can't you drop in next Thursday and asked to be introduced, I could say 'Miss Pullen has so many engagements. Can't you drop in next Thursday?'"

That would show she wasn't running after them. She's so pretty, and with the nice clothes well buy. I wouldn't wonder if we'd be prancing around in the most exclusive circles before long."

"Don't you want Sam to come and see me any more?" Julia asked.

"I think you'd better keep him at a distance, dear. You'll move in different circles now."

Pullen pulled a cigar from his pocket and lit it. "Elsie," said he, "you're raving. I'd rather Julia would marry a kind, smart boy like Sam than any of these young squirts with a lot of money they don't know how to spend."

His wife flourished her hand, as if to wave his objections away. "Men simply don't understand these things," she said. "Only a woman knows."

With this she entered upon the task of clearing the table, waving her husband and daughter from the room. Pullen, however, lingered in the doorway.

With all these high-hat ideas of yours," said he, "are you going to give up housekeeping?"

"Why, have you lost your senses?" she countered, pausing with an armful of plates. "Of course I'll keep house. 'Going to do the cooking?' he persisted.

"You're just silly," she said. "I like to cook. I'd like to see anybody try to take my kitchen away from me, and my nice new stove we're going to get."

"Hum," he said, apparently more at ease. "I suppose there'll be headlines in the papers: 'Society Matron Cooks Lamb.' 'Noted Hostess Burns Gravy.'"

WIVES OF TOMORROW
By FRANCES McDONALD
Nice Mother.

DEAR Miss McDonald: I have been a daily reader of your column for a long time, but have never yet seen a letter come to you for advice that corresponds with mine. The general run of letters deal mostly with the men folk, whereas my trouble is with my mother, much to my regret. I have been happily married for five years. I have fine clothes, a fine home, and a very fine husband, who does everything to make my life a real pleasure, and, in short, is ideal in every respect. I live within car distance of my mother, and as we have no children I visit my mother her subject is entirely of my husband. She says terrible things about him, which are untruths. She says he is lazy, which isn't true, because he has a fine trade and works hard. She says he runs around like all the men, which is also a lie. Because he takes me every place he goes. She thinks he is always scheming to do things unknown to me. And he is absolutely open in everything. She and my father live all alone, very comfortably, and my father is a very quiet man, she has plenty of time to think. My husband has refused to go there for the past year because she would make such remarks every time. I know it is ridiculous, but it is also very unfortunate. He has always led a rather contented and peaceful life, so he says he won't go there to listen to abuse for he respects my mother, or perhaps he, too much to argue with her. Is there any way I can persuade my mother to feel differently about my husband, as I would so much like to be friends? She tells me if she were to meet him on the street she would tell him what she thinks of him. Now, isn't that terrible? He took her a present on Mother's day and she threw it out the hallway after us, and called him a hypocrite. I do not tell my husband she fights with me so much, because he would refuse to let me go to see her. If my letter is too long to print, will you kindly mail me some advice, for I feel you could tell me what to do. Very gratefully yours,
WORRIED DAUGHTER.

If your mother is mentally sound she needs a little discipline and you should summon the courage to supply that need. Just tell her that you will come to see her on one condition, and that is that she omit reference to your husband. You know one of the parcels of ancient bunk that will soon be considered to scrap heap is the worn-out idea that a woman becomes a sage as a saint just before becoming a mother. A lot of them become petty tyrants and quite a few attain the degree of being a public nuisance. I would catalogue a mother like yours along that line. She not only wrecks the peace of those in her own household, but develops outside activities and includes the homes of others. In the good old days they had a nice little contrivance known as the ducking stool, and aboard this nifty little model many a good mother took a ride. She returned to the bosom of her family a wiser woman, and when thoroughly dried out was usually as good as new and sometimes better. Far be it from me to suggest the revival of such methods. We have traffic congestion enough without having ducking stool jams on the water fronts. But I do suggest that you make the very objectionable lady who is your mother understand that, as an individual, you are entitled to certain respect in your rights. If you are sufficiently firm, she will see the point and perhaps act as a well-bred and normal human who should toward other humans. Just be firm.

MODISH MITZI

Dad is planning the garden he will have when he really goes back to nature. "Radishes, cabbages, asparagus, cauliflower," he mutters as he thumbs the pages of the catalogue some enterprising firm has sent him. There is a chorus of protest from the ladies.

"Orchids," demands Mitzi, conscious of the becomingness of the georgette and velvet bouquet that ornaments the left shoulder of her dinner dress. "Peonies," begs Polly, who really believes that her vermilion shoulder flower is that sort of blossom.

Suggestions for the Garden

"Orchids," demands Mitzi, conscious of the becomingness of the georgette and velvet bouquet that ornaments the left shoulder of her dinner dress. "Peonies," begs Polly, who really believes that her vermilion shoulder flower is that sort of blossom.

"Fuchsias," suggests Aunt Sophia, "so nice and old-fashioned in a garden." "Nice but not old-fashioned on a georgette frock, too," contributes Mitzi. And so they are when they are made of violet chiffon with trailing stems of a quite natural green.

"Roses, of course," contributes Adelaide. Roses, to be sure, are especially smart when worn on the back of a low-necked evening gown—but Dad had been reading the catalogue. "Growers agree," he says firmly, "that spring plantings of roses are no longer favored."

Mr. Lewis uses this experience as a text for an article on heat losses in houses. The heat loss through the walls of a well-built frame house will be reduced nearly 50 per cent if the walls are insulated with some expanded insulation material. The saving in the cost of installing the insulation will nearly pay the cost of insulation. The yearly saving on the bill will soon pay off what excess in building cost was not wiped out by saving in the purchase of radiators. The cost of heat losses through masonry walls also argues for masonry walls, but he would prefer to bid one to five if necessary to secure the contract; but he would prefer to bid only two and be able to count his three extra tricks at 50 each. From a love score he would not bid voluntarily above the three or five-old needed for game; unless he felt able to bid six- or seven-odd for a slam. In the foreign game 50 points are sometimes allowed for making Contract; but in this country, while there are some who play with the foreign allowance for the contract, it is unusual to find it included. In Contract, just as in Bridge, a double doubles all values; a redouble quadruples them. Being vulnerable, a part of Contract which will be explained later, produces more doubling. Another article on Contract tomorrow. (Copyright John F. Dille Co.)

BEAUTY AND YOU
By VIOLA PARIS

CARE OF EYES. There is a vast difference between taking good, common-sense care of the eyes and being fussy about them. Being fussy about the eyes means worrying about mysterious notions, trying all manner of eyeprops, and indulging in too much massage around the eyes. The sensible treatment does not go to the opposite extreme of neglecting or forgetting about the eyes. By no means it depends, first and foremost, on keeping the eyes beautifully clean; then, not letting them get so tired, protecting them from strain, and gentle handling of any fine lines that may appear in the surrounding skin. If you are wise, you will realize that the clarity and brilliance of your eyes will depend upon the state of your physical well-being. Diet, exercise, rest, elimination—all these are most important factors. For example, if your eyelids are puffy, you will look to your diet, to see that it contains no foods that are acting as poisons to your system. Meat, eggs, alcohol, sweets; it might be any of these. Are you drinking too much coffee or tea, and not enough pure, fresh water? If you awaken in the morning with dark rings under the eyes, and find that you can make them vanish by any external preparation. In all probability you are not getting enough sleep.

WARM HOUSES WITH LOW FUEL BILLS. MR. SAM LEWIS uses the Aero-log to tell the story of a reformed golfer. Having repented his sin of being a golfer, he has found a warm, comfortable home as a heavenly reward. For a golfer to come within one letter of heaven is news, according to Leach and Carroll and all other textbooks on journalism. This particular repentant took up house-patching as a release for his surplus energy. He lived in a well kept, fairly old, frame residence, situated in a suburban town. He decided to make all parts of the house comfortable in cold, windy weather, and incidentally to reduce his fuel bills. His plan was to do this by spending brains rather than money. He first footed up his fuel bill and compared it with those of people with more comfortable homes. The next line was to determine which were the cold rooms, and the cold parts of rooms were to be patched up. The third was to find the reasons. The fourth, to find the remedy, and the fifth to apply it. Bad insulation and air circulation within and through the walls was looked for and closed. Fine cracks in the walls with a form of insulating plaster were the remedy. Whenever there was a cold corner he looked for and closed. Fine cracks in the walls with a form of insulating plaster were the remedy. In the inside walls near the cold areas, or in the floor, mixed the plaster with water at some nearby point, and poured it into the wall or floor. If much was required a portion would be poured and allowed to set, and then another would be poured. Finally the hole was closed and papered or plastered over. He tinkered away at it himself in his leisure moments, with the result that his house became comfortable everywhere in winter and his fuel bill was cut markedly. Mr. Lewis uses this experience as a text for an article on heat losses in houses. The heat loss through the walls of a well-built frame house will be reduced nearly 50 per cent if the walls are insulated with some expanded insulation material. The saving in the cost of installing the insulation will nearly pay the cost of insulation. The yearly saving on the bill will soon pay off what excess in building cost was not wiped out by saving in the purchase of radiators. The cost of heat losses through masonry walls also argues for masonry walls, but he would prefer to bid one to five if necessary to secure the contract; but he would prefer to bid only two and be able to count his three extra tricks at 50 each. From a love score he would not bid voluntarily above the three or five-old needed for game; unless he felt able to bid six- or seven-odd for a slam. In the foreign game 50 points are sometimes allowed for making Contract; but in this country, while there are some who play with the foreign allowance for the contract, it is unusual to find it included. In Contract, just as in Bridge, a double doubles all values; a redouble quadruples them. Being vulnerable, a part of Contract which will be explained later, produces more doubling. THE FLOWER GIRL. DEAR Miss Singleton: My daughter, 6 years old, has been asked to be flower girl at my nephew's wedding. Now, just what is expected of me under the circumstances? Should I entertain for her in some way? Should I actually refer to the little flower girl, may be meant to refer to the bride. In that case I should say that it would be natural and pleasant for the aunt of the bridegroom to ask the bride to a luncheon or dinner. In regard to the flowers, they are usually included in the bride's dowry. The bridegroom might have a sentiment about sending the bride her bouquet. Sometimes he sends the bride procession flowers as well, but not in a social world. (Copyright, 1927, by Vogue.)

It has just occurred to me, however, that the "her" in the question, "Should I entertain for her in some way?" though it actually refers to the little flower girl, may be meant to refer to the bride. Mr. Work's Pointer On Auction Bridge

In future articles the different counts and various bonuses will be given so that the readers can take their choice in determining how to play Contract; but before going into those details it is necessary to explain more about the variation in principle between Auction Bridge and Contract. As has been stated, in Contract only the amount of the bid is scored in the trick column (below the line); nevertheless, the taking of additional tricks is a most important factor because indulgent surplus tricks are scored above the line, not at the actual trick value, but at a much higher figure—usually 50 per trick. As a result of this provision, a player, unless forced to do so, will not bid more than enough to make his game, unless he feels able to try for a Slam and the big Slam bonus. Should a player (having a score) need two-odd for game, and feel confident of winning five-odd, he would bid up to five if necessary to secure the contract; but he would prefer to bid only two and be able to count his three extra tricks at 50 each. From a love score he would not bid voluntarily above the three or five-old needed for game; unless he felt able to bid six- or seven-odd for a Slam. In the foreign game 50 points are sometimes allowed for making Contract; but in this country, while there are some who play with the foreign allowance for the contract, it is unusual to find it included. CARE OF EYES. There is a vast difference between taking good, common-sense care of the eyes and being fussy about them. Being fussy about the eyes means worrying about mysterious notions, trying all manner of eyeprops, and indulging in too much massage around the eyes. The sensible treatment does not go to the opposite extreme of neglecting or forgetting about the eyes. By no means it depends, first and foremost, on keeping the eyes beautifully clean; then, not letting them get so tired, protecting them from strain, and gentle handling of any fine lines that may appear in the surrounding skin. If you are wise, you will realize that the clarity and brilliance of your eyes will depend upon the state of your physical well-being. Diet, exercise, rest, elimination—all these are most important factors. For example, if your eyelids are puffy, you will look to your diet, to see that it contains no foods that are acting as poisons to your system. Meat, eggs, alcohol, sweets; it might be any of these. Are you drinking too much coffee or tea, and not enough pure, fresh water? If you awaken in the morning with dark rings under the eyes, and find that you can make them vanish by any external preparation. In all probability you are not getting enough sleep.

Eye exercises, if gently taken, are good and help to relieve fatigue and nerve-strain. They can be made by oneself with very little ingenuity. (Copyright, 1927, by Vogue.)

chian region. During the last 24 hours sec-tered rains have occurred in the south Atlantic States, the lower half of the north Missouri valley and in the Pacific States.
Temperatures have fallen over the plains States.

The outlook is for light rain on Friday in the Ohio valley, the east gulf States, and in portions of the lower lake region, and for light rains Friday afternoon or night in the middle Atlantic and south Atlantic States and southern New England. Elsewhere the weather will be mostly fair Friday and Saturday. In States east of the Mississippi river, it will be colder on Friday in the Ohio valley, Tennessee, the western lower lake region and the interior of the east gulf States, and colder Friday night and Saturday in the Atlantic States and along the east gulf coast.

DERRICK BEING BUILT FOR ANACOSTIA WORK

Craft to Cost $66,000, and Will Be Delivered Here in May.

A new derrick boat to be called the Benning is being built by the Charleston, S. C. Drydock & Machine Co. for use of the United States engineer's office in the Anacostia reclamation work.

and Maj. Brehon Somervell, local engineer, and E. A. Schmitt, his assistant, will make an inspection of the craft Monday.

The boat to be built at a cost of $66,000, is rapidly assuming form. The entire structure and plating has been set up, riveting is in progress, and boilers and machinery are being assembled.

The boat will be used in work on Anacostia park and is designed with a low superstructure to enable it to pass under Benning bridge to reach Section G of Anacostia, lying between Benning bridge and the District line. It will be ready for delivery by May and it is hoped that the next Congress will lift restrictions on the Section G work and permit its operation.

Hardware Store Theft.
Gustave Hartig, owner of a hardware store at 509 H street northeast, reported to police of the Ninth precinct yesterday that the store had been entered during the night and several knives and flashlights stolen.

Commissioned in Reserve.
Howard S. Kisk, 909 Twelfth street northwest, has been commissioned a lieutenant in the supply corps, naval reserve.

CLARENDON MAN HELD ON LARCENY CHARGE

Former Trust Employee Borrowed $6,250 on Valueless Notes, Men Say.

Robert F. Brooks, Jr., 30 years old, of Clarendon, Va., former assistant treasurer of the Clarendon Trust Co., was arrested at his place of employment, 26 Jackson place northwest, yesterday morning by Headquarters Detectives Messer and Cole on two warrants charging grand larceny.

The warrants, issued by Commonwealth's Attorney William C. Gloth, of Arlington county, charge Brooks with the larceny of $4,000 from George W. Brooks and $2,250 from J. W. Lindsey, both of Clarendon. The complaining witnesses charge that they lent these sums to Brooks on the strength of trust notes, which are alleged to be valueless. Brooks told police he lost the money on the stock market.

On motion of State's Attorney Frank L. Ball and Blakey James, counsel for Brooks, Judge Harry R. Thomas, of Arlington county, continued the case until March 7. Brooks is employed as a salesman for a local stock company. He was released on bond of $5,000.

Frederick Kiwanians To Fete Capital Club

Members of the Washington Kiwanis club, meeting yesterday afternoon in the Washington hotel, accepted an invitation from the Kiwanis club of Frederick, Md., to attend a meeting of the club Tuesday in Frederick. Following yesterday's luncheon, Miss Alice Howison and Miss Charlotte Harman sang in a program arranged by Charles Pimper. Guests included Max Bauman, president of the New York Kiwanis club; Theodore F. Krug, of Baltimore; Herbert Cotton, of Hartford, Conn.; Dr. William H. Walker, of Williams, Calif.; and Joseph Waugh, of Santa Monica, Calif.

Contractor Files in Bankruptcy.
Listing his assets at $6,870 and his debts at $8,389.54, Clarence H. Fleming, of McLean, Va., a contractor and builder, with offices in the Denrike building here, yesterday filed a petition in the District Supreme court to be adjudged a voluntary bankrupt. He was represented by Attorney William B. Wright.

Masters of MusicGiuseppe Verdi
1813-1901

At the age of forty Giuseppe Fortunino Francesco Verdi had composed Rigoletto, Il Trovatore and La Traviata. He had won acknowledgment as the greatest of Italian composers. The works of Donizetti, Bellini and Rossini had to bow before Verdi's masterpieces.

But having reached the pinnacle, Verdi looked for yet higher peaks to scale. Aida, composed at the age of fifty-eight, displayed greater freedom and power than any of his previous works. Otello, written at the age of seventy-four, was another stride forward. And Falstaff, which Verdi produced in his eightieth year, shows the culmination of the master's musical skill.

Verdi's steady upward development is mirrored in the outward march of Swartzell, Rheem & Hensley Company. Our business has enjoyed a healthy growth from year to year because investors recognize the soundness of First Mortgage Notes offered by a House which has protected its investors from loss for fifty-seven years.

Cities Service Company

Refunding Five Per Cent. Gold Debenture Bonds

Dated March 1, 1927

Due January 1, 1966

Principal and interest payable in New York and Chicago; interest payable also in San Francisco. Interest payable March 1 and September 1. Coupon bonds in denominations of $1,000, $500 and $100. Registrable as to principal only. Callable as a whole or in part, on any interest date on thirty days' notice, at 105% on or before March 1, 1966, and thereafter at 1% less each year, or part thereof, to and including March 1, 1966, and thereafter at 100%, plus accrued interest in each case. Pennsylvania Four-Mills Tax, Connecticut Four-Mills Tax, Massachusetts Income Tax on the interest up to 6%, Maryland Four and One-Half Mills Securities Tax, and California Tax up to four mills refundable to resident holders in these states on application to the Company within 60 days. Interest payable without deduction for Normal Federal Income Tax not exceeding 2%. Chatham Phenix National Bank and Trust Company, New York, Trustee.

Heldring &amp; Pierson, The Hague, have reserved for distribution in Europe $1,000,000 of this issue.

The following information has been summarized by Henry L. Doherty, President of Cities Service Company:

BUSINESS: Cities Service Company owns directly or indirectly a majority of the common stock of each of more than sixty public utilities comprising a large and successful system of electric light and power, manufactured and natural gas, heat, water, ice and street railway companies, and of more than forty companies representing an important system of oil production, transportation, refining and marketing.

The public utility properties comprise a diversified group operating in seventeen states and the Dominion of Canada, serving a population of more than 3,000,000 in over 600 communities, including such important cities as Toledo and Sandusky, Ohio; Denver, Colo.; Kansas City and St. Joseph, Mo.; Kansas City and Topeka, Kan.; Danbury, Conn., and numerous others. These companies, having an installed capacity of over 700,000 horse power, sold in 1926 more than 1,307,000,000 kilowatt hours of electric energy for light and power, and distributed in excess of 72 billion cubic feet of manufactured and natural gas.

The principal oil subsidiaries had during 1926 an average daily production of 33,000 barrels of crude oil, and during January, 1927 an average daily production in excess of 46,000 barrels. They own and operate seven refineries and about 1,000 miles of oil pipe lines. The oil properties are located in what is commonly called the Mid-Continent field in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, and the natural gas business is conducted principally in Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The Company will enter into an agreement that at least $15,000,000 total principal amount of Convertible Debentures and/or Debenture Bonds of the Company issued and outstanding in the hands of the public as of January 31, 1927, shall be retired during 1927. This financing will effect a material reduction in interest charges without increasing the Company's funded debt.

EARNINGS: Consolidated Net Earnings for the twelve months ended January 31, 1927, applicable to reserves and to interest on the Company's funded debt, were $25,688,083, equal to more than 12½ times the maximum annual interest charges of $1,983,886 on the Company's funded indebtedness, including these Debenture Bonds, after giving effect to present financing.

Such net earnings for the eight calendar years 1919 to 1926, inclusive, averaged more than 9 times the above interest charges, and in no year during this period were they less than 6½ times the above interest charges.

The earnings applicable to the Company from subsidiaries were about equally divided between public utility and oil operations for the calendar year 1926.

SINKING FUND: The Agreement under, subject and pursuant to which these Debenture Bonds are to be issued will provide for a Sinking Fund equivalent to $375,000 per annum, operating $93,750 quarterly beginning March 1, 1928, and for ratable increase thereof as additional Refunding Five Per Cent Gold Debenture Bonds are issued. Such fund is to be used for the retirement of Refunding Five Per Cent Gold Debenture Bonds, by purchase, if obtainable at not exceeding par and accrued interest. All such Bonds, so purchased, must be cancelled. Any quarterly sinking fund amounts which are not so applied at the end of any quarter revert to the treasury of the Company.

EQUITY: The funded debt of Cities Service Company is followed by preferred and common stocks of a par value, as of January 31, 1927, of $193,400,000 on which cash dividends of 6% are being paid. These stocks on February 15, 1927 had an aggregate market value in excess of $300,000,000.

All legal details in connection with this issue of Debenture Bonds are under the supervision of Messrs. Chadbourne, Stanchfield & Levy and Messrs. Pinesoff, Robinson & Sloan, New York City. Deliveries may be made of these Debenture Bonds in definitive or temporary form or in interim receipts or Trustee's certificates thereof.

These Debenture bonds are offered when, as and if issued and received by us, subject to the approval of counsel.

SALARY CRISIS REAR FOR NEIS AND CULLOP

Egan is New Georgetown Coach

Former Tutor of Nats' Pitchers in Charge of Baseball.

Had Long Career in Big Leagues; a Star With Orioles.

BEN EGAN, former big league player and coach of the Washington Nationals, has been engaged as baseball coach at Georgetown University. Lou Little, director of athletics at the Hilltop, announced last night. Egan, who succeeds John D. O'Reilly, coach of Georgetown since for thirteen years, will take charge of the squad immediately.

The new coach will enter upon his duties at the Hilltop with more than twenty years of association with professional baseball behind him. While he is best known to local fans for having coached the Washington pitchers in 1924, he was a member of the famous Philadelphia Athletics in 1912, which team, by coincidence, produced three other college coaches. They are Jack Barry, now at Holy Cross; Jack Coombs, at Princeton, and Chief Bender, at Naval Academy.

In addition to his sojourn with the Athletics, Egan played with Boston and Cleveland, but it was with the Baltimore club that he earned his greatest fame as a catcher.

He was a star with the Orioles for seven years and helped Jack Dunn develop, among other pitchers, Babe Ruth, and is credited by Lefty Grove as having started the latter on the right track.

Egan began his diamond career in his home town of Sherrill, N. Y., where, with nine brothers, he organized an Egan team which took several of the best semipro clubs of that vicinity into camp. His first professional assignment was with Rome in the Empire State league in 1905.

Last year Egan was coach of the Chicago White Sox pitchers under the management of Eddie Collins, his teammate. Collins, Joe Judge and a score of big league players recommended Egan to Georgetown officials.

The new coach will take up his duties at Georgetown under none too favorable conditions. Last year the Hilltop was represented by an ordinary club of that vicinity into contrast to the great teams turned out by Coach O'Reilly.

From that team will be missing George Muraugh, first string catcher; Jack Haggerty, star outfielder; Jimmie Quinn, third baseman, and several pitchers.

However, several of last year's freshmen players are expected to fill the open positions capably.

Freshmen Annex 16th Straight Victory by 38-25 Score.

ST. JOHN'S tossers proved no match for the powerful Georgetown Freshmen basketball team, who experienced little trouble in annexing their sixteenth straight victory in a 38-25 rout over the Cadets yesterday afternoon in the Ryan gymnasium.

The yearlings started off in whirlwind fashion, displaying a fast short-passing attack that completely overwhelmed the Vennies. At half-time Coach Duda's charges enjoyed a 25-9 lead over the scholastic dribblers.

The St. John's youngsters fought back gamely in the following periods against the home team's reserves, giving the Cub aggregation more than an even battle.

J. Bonner was the big threat in the freshmen's scoring machine, netting the sphere on five occasions in brilliant style. Dunn, Dutton, Messersmith, M. Bonner also played their usual stellar game.

Walter Morris and Capt. Mudd accounted for more than half of his team's points, while Mudd's passing and floorwork were outstanding.

South's Fives In Tourney Today

Maryland to Idle at Atlanta; W. & L. in Opening Game.

N. Carolina Favored to Repeat; V. M. I. to Meet Ga. Tech.

ATLANTA, Feb. 24. (By A. P.)—With practically all the competing teams here and ready for the whistle, Southern conference basketball tonight was prepared for the opening of the annual tournament which begins tomorrow afternoon. The Vanderbilt Commodores meet the Washington and Lee Generals in the first game.

The Mississippi Aggies and North Carolina State were the first teams to arrive today. Both quintets went through limbering up exercises at the Atlanta Athletic club court during the afternoon and are ready for the opening day and will practice as all, during tomorrow morning. No team has been allowed to practice on the new court constructed in the auditorium especially for the tournament.

BOBBY JONES GETS FIRST "ACE"

Sinks 170-Yard Iron Shot; Never Thought He'd Do It.

ATLANTA, Feb. 24. (By A. P.)—Bobby Jones, open golf champion of Great Britain, after a brilliant States and for the past ten years regarded as one of the greatest players in the world, has just made his first "hole in one."

He did this yesterday afternoon while playing with his original instructor, Stewart Maiden, over his home course, the East Lake Country club of Atlanta.

Bobby was practicing for the Southern open tournament to be held on the course March 23 and 24.

The eleventh hole, a neat and well-trapped green for an iron shot, was the scene of the champion's induction into the "dodo club." It takes a shot of about 170 yards, and Bobby used a half swing with a No. 4 iron, the ball popping over the hole and landing in the hole.

"Somehow, I never thought I'd make a hole in one," said Bobby, who for nearly twenty years has been shooting very close to the pin.

"I've played with many who have made holes in one. I was playing with Walter Hagen at Worcester when Walter made his only single-tee and I was playing with Jack Hutchison at St. Andrews, Scotland, in 1921 when he made a hole in one and with the return of Capt. Bozok to the lineup, hope to topple the Baltimoreans.

Again and the intercollegiate, A. D. Calhoun, the Hilltop student who has been coaching the team, will not be allowed to compete. Director of Athletics Lou Little said last night.

The one-year transfer rule will bar him. Little also said that Georgetown did not have a coach, even though student, to represent the university in competition.

Ruth Makes Terms; Unseen by Yankees

Los Angeles, Feb. 24. (By A. P.)—"Babe" Ruth, who yesterday announced he had mailed his terms for the coming year to Jacob Ruppert, of the New York Yankees, said today he will give Ruppert until tomorrow to make the letter public. Ruth declared the letter should be in New York by this time.

New York, Feb. 24. (By A. P.)—Col. Jacob Ruppert is confined to his home with a cold and has not yet received "Babe" Ruth's salary terms.

The Yankee owner refused to make any statement when told of Ruth's ultimatum of publication of the letter containing Ruth's proposals, understood to include a demand for a substantial increase over his former $52,000 yearly pay check.

"Nothing has arrived from the Babe, so far as I know," said Col. Ruppert. "I won't be back at my office until Monday and don't intend to worry about baseball matters until then."

For the Yankees' headquarters Secretary Ed Barrow also declared no word had been received from Ruth.

Dundee Faces Borde In Aloysius Feature

Buster Dundee, of Baltimore, and Jimmy Borde, of New York, will swap punches Tuesday night in the main event at the Aloysius club's boxing show for its members. The match will go eight rounds or less, as will the semifinal between Sammy Hogan, of the Mohawks A. C., and Buck Zebeline, of Baltimore.

C. U. Defeats American, 29-24

Long, Leader of Spurt Near End; Catholic Trails at Half.

Two Field Goals by Keale Clinch Game; Banta Shines.

AN 8-point rally midway in the final period, characterized by the same dash and spirit the Catholic university five has displayed during the current season, was the turning point of the thrilling Catholic university-American clash last night in the latter's gymnasium before a capacity audience. Catholic university won by a 29-24 score.

Up to the time of this scoring spurt, the American tossers had outplayed the formidable rivals, but Catholic was not to be denied, flashing some brilliant shooting to gain a substantial lead, and then "freezing" the ball in the waning minutes of the fray in fine style.

The initial half was a nip-and-tuck affair, with Burchright and Sawyer bearing the brunt of the attack for the home five, while some clever tossing by Keale and Harvey pressed the American lads to retain the slight 12-11 lead they held at half time.

The following frame was a bedlam of action with the lead alternating repeatedly until the Cardinals made their determined bid for the laurels. A phenomenal layup by Foley from his guard position was the signal for the Brooklanders to launch their belated rally.

Banta raised the dampened spirits of the American rooters with a brace of brilliant "pot" shots, but the bark of the gun brought a cessation to any further scoring activities.

Calhoun Will Not Box For Georgetown Team

Should Georgetown's boxing team be invited to compete in the intercollegiate, A. D. Calhoun, the Hilltop student who has been coaching the team, will not be allowed to compete. Director of Athletics Lou Little said last night.

The one-year transfer rule will bar him. Little also said that Georgetown did not have a coach, even though student, to represent the university in competition.

Ruth Makes Terms; Unseen by Yankees

Los Angeles, Feb. 24. (By A. P.)—"Babe" Ruth, who yesterday announced he had mailed his terms for the coming year to Jacob Ruppert, of the New York Yankees, said today he will give Ruppert until tomorrow to make the letter public. Ruth declared the letter should be in New York by this time.

New York, Feb. 24. (By A. P.)—Col. Jacob Ruppert is confined to his home with a cold and has not yet received "Babe" Ruth's salary terms.

The Yankee owner refused to make any statement when told of Ruth's ultimatum of publication of the letter containing Ruth's proposals, understood to include a demand for a substantial increase over his former $52,000 yearly pay check.

"Nothing has arrived from the Babe, so far as I know," said Col. Ruppert. "I won't be back at my office until Monday and don't intend to worry about baseball matters until then."

C. U. Defeats American, 29-24

Long, Leader of Spurt Near End; Catholic Trails at Half.

Two Field Goals by Keale Clinch Game; Banta Shines.

AN 8-point rally midway in the final period, characterized by the same dash and spirit the Catholic university five has displayed during the current season, was the turning point of the thrilling Catholic university-American clash last night in the latter's gymnasium before a capacity audience. Catholic university won by a 29-24 score.

Up to the time of this scoring spurt, the American tossers had outplayed the formidable rivals, but Catholic was not to be denied, flashing some brilliant shooting to gain a substantial lead, and then "freezing" the ball in the waning minutes of the fray in fine style.

The initial half was a nip-and-tuck affair, with Burchright and Sawyer bearing the brunt of the attack for the home five, while some clever tossing by Keale and Harvey pressed the American lads to retain the slight 12-11 lead they held at half time.

The following frame was a bedlam of action with the lead alternating repeatedly until the Cardinals made their determined bid for the laurels. A phenomenal layup by Foley from his guard position was the signal for the Brooklanders to launch their belated rally.

Long came through with three tallies on a 4-point play, and Keale clinched the victory with a pair of 2-pointers at the right time.

Banta raised the dampened spirits of the American rooters with a brace of brilliant "pot" shots, but the bark of the gun brought a cessation to any further scoring activities.

Gonzaga Five Host To Polytech Tonight

Coach Simondinger's Gonzaga basketball team will close their home season tonight with a game with the strong Baltimore Poly tossers in the Gonzaga gymnasium at 8 o'clock. The Eye-streets have emerged from their recent slump, and with the return of Capt. Bozok to the lineup, hope to topple the Baltimoreans.

Again and the intercollegiate, A. D. Calhoun, the Hilltop student who has been coaching the team, will not be allowed to compete. Director of Athletics Lou Little said last night.

The one-year transfer rule will bar him. Little also said that Georgetown did not have a coach, even though student, to represent the university in competition.

REGAINING FORM AT TAMPA

Trio Balking At Club's Terms

Dick Coffman Shows Burning Speed in Workout.

Berger, New Catcher, Batted for 1.000 in 1922.

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 24.—By the end of this week three of the Nationals either will have to sign contracts or be listed as holdouts. The three in question are Catcher "Muddy" Ruel and Outfielders Bernie Neis and Nick Cullop.

Cullop seems to be playing a watchful waiting game in his dickering with President Clark Griffith, and the exact nature of his disagreement is not known, but it should not be hard to guess the answer.

Ruel admits that the money offered him is not at all in line with the way he values himself, and in an interview given out in St. Louis declares that he is being asked to take a sizable "cut" in salary. When asked for details, the Washington club head, following his usual policy of not discussing salaries publicly, had nothing whatever to say.

When Ruel was doing practically all of the receiving for the Nats and was back of the plate day in and day out, he had plenty of grounds for demanding good pay, but the chances are that Bernie Neis will be used in practically half the games, and consequently, Griffith does not figure that they will be worth as much to the club this season as in the past. The club participated in 45 of the 1926 contests.

Bernie Neis, the other player yet to reach an agreement with the Harri-men, was a visitor at one of the workouts last week, and his differences with the Washington club were small ones and that very little adjusting would be necessary.

Neither President Griffith nor Manager Harris seem to be losing any sleep worrying over these near holdouts, although they admit that they will be greatly disappointed if any fail to sign. It has so happened, however, that John Berger has proven himself a fine little receiver in the daily drills here and is both capable and experienced, while with Tris Speaker signed to play center field, the Nats would be pretty well fixed in utility by chasing talent even if Neis and Cullop did fail to sign and report as ordered.

Joe Stecher Penn's Meet Conquers ATTRACTS HANSON CENTRAL

CENTRAL High's basketball team is included in the list of entries for the University of Pennsylvania's annual tournament which gets under way at Philadelphia tomorrow and will be Washington's lone representative in the event.

This will mark the fourth consecutive year that a Washington scholastic team has competed in the tournament and the third time that Central has sought the honors. In each race, either Central or Eastern has fought its way to the final game only to be nosed out for the championship.

Central, through its numerous games with teams of that section as well as its tournament play, is popular in Philadelphia and was extended a special invitation to compete.

In all, 27 high school teams are entered this year. Central is scheduled to meet Millville, N. J., high in the first round tomorrow night.

Tonight Central will face its hardest game of the year, meeting the Georgetown Freshmen, winners of 16 straight games, at the Arcadia, starting at 8 o'clock.

This game, which has been eagerly awaited by scholastic and collegiate followers, is likely to draw one of the largest basketball crowds of the season.

Central, after a slump which followed the abrupt ending of the public high series, has regained its top form and will be ready to make its stand against one of the best freshman teams in the history of Georgetown.

Taylor Wins Decision In Bout With Shea

Chicago, Feb. 24. (By A. P.)—Buddy Taylor, Terre Haute, recognized as world's bantamweight champion in Illinois and seventeen other States, stepped out of his class tonight to administer a decisive beating to Eddie Shea, a Chicago featherweight title contender.

The match, decided in the coliseum, drew a capacity crowd of 10,000 with gate receipts around $84,000. It was promoter Jim Mullens' third capacity crowd, and hundreds unable to get tickets were turned away.

WRC WILL BROADCAST FEDERATION SERVICES

Morning Church Exercises to Be Put on Air Through Station WEAF.

MARIAN TALLY TO SING

This morning Washington listeners will have an opportunity for the first time to hear the church federation morning devotionals, which will be broadcast through WRC immediately after the health exercises. The services will last from 7:45 to 8 o'clock and are sponsored by the New York Federation of Churches, coming to the Capital through station WEAF.

Miss Marian Talley, who for her years has had one of the most remarkable careers of any American soprano, and whose voice is said to have matured and improved greatly since first heard by radio listeners about a year ago, will be the headline on the air tonight at 9 o'clock. It is to be regretted that she will not come to us through WRC, but it will be easy for Washington listeners to pick up the program through WEAF or KDKA, which will carry the Victor hour.

Sharing the hour with Miss Talley will be two young American singers, Lawrence Tibbett, baritone, and Richard Crooks, tenor. Mr. Tibbett, like Miss Talley, is also a member of the Metropolitan Opera company.

A feminine touch will also be added to the WRC program when tonight at 8:30 o'clock Miss Frances McKee, one of the season's debutantes, will discuss "Plays for Children" under the auspices of the Junior League. The Goldman band will be heard in its second concert of this series and the Lord Calvert ensemble will sing earlier in the evening. The Anglo-Persians will celebrate the first anniversary of their debut at 10 o'clock. There will be a concert by the Marine band through WRC at 9:30 for early afternoon listeners.

"Rapidly Vanishing Humanity," an address by Dr. St. Louis Estes, of Chicago, at the City club's weekly luncheon will be broadcast by station WMAL at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Our old friend the Royal tour may be picked up through KDKA at 8:30 o'clock tonight in a memorial program including "Poor Butterflies," the "Japanese Bandman" and other Oriental music. The Georgia Minstrel Boys will again hold the stage at WEAF and Dacs.

When You Catch Cold
Rub On Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and works right away. It may prevent a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made of oil of mustard and other home remedies. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of all sorts.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

You can be so distressed with gas and fullness and bloating from an overworked, abused or weak stomach that you think your heart is going to stop beating. Your stomach may be so distended that your breathing is short and gaspy. You think perhaps you are suffocating. You are dizzy and pray for quick relief—what's to be done?

Just one tablespoonful of Dare's Mentha Pepsin and speedily the gas disappears, the pressure on the heart eases and you can breathe deep and naturally. Oh! What blessed relief; but why not cowboy-cornucopia in full Western regalia will issue the microphone at 8 o'clock. There will again be the chance, at the same hour, to try to pick up the marine corps station HRC in Haiti between 8 and 9 o'clock. It broadcasts on 361 meters and with its power of 1,000 watts has been heard especially well in the East and Northeastern portions of the United States this winter. The distance roughly is about 1,500 miles.
